Week 1: God Can Use You

1. PURPOSE REQUIRES PURSUIT

God has a purpose for your life, but His purpose is not separated from His presence. Seek Him through prayer, Scripture, surrender, and obedience. You may not receive the whole picture at once; God often gives clarity for the next step as you walk with Him.

2. GOD OFTEN STARTS IN ORDINARY PLACES

Nick Vujicic's story began at home, where his parents consistently grounded his identity in God's truth rather than his limitations. Homes, families, and everyday relationships are places where faith and identity are formed. What is built in private can echo far beyond what we see.

3. YOUR EVERYDAY ENVIRONMENT IS YOUR MISSION FIELD

God often uses people who are simply faithful where they already are. Your workplace, school, neighborhood, and daily routines are filled with opportunities to encourage, care, speak truth, and plant seeds. Faithfulness is our responsibility; the outcome belongs to God.

4. GOD USES UNLIKELY PEOPLE

Weaknesses, limitations, past mistakes, or feelings of inadequacy do not automatically disqualify you. God does not require perfection; He calls for surrender. When He opens a door, you do not have to depend only on your own strength.

THIS WEEK'S CHALLENGE

- Where can God use me today?
- Who around me needs encouragement, hope, truth, or genuine care?
- Am I waiting to feel ready, or am I willing to say yes?
- How can I be faithful right where I am?

“If God wants to use you... what is holding you back from saying yes?”
