All photos are for reference only, actual food may differ from the photo used.

10% weekend/peak time charge applies to all bills on Thursday, Friday evenings and Saturday, Sunday all day.

All of our food is labelled corresponding to the dietary requirements below, but please be aware - there may still be traces of SOY, DAIRY, WHEAT, FISH and MEAT as, even though we take great care to separate them to our best of our availability, they are still prepared in the same kitchen so please talk to a member of staff before ordering so we can provide you with the best service possible.

All of our food are free from nuts, lupins, celery and peanuts

All of the seafood dishes explained include shellfish and crustaceans

Egg is used in all jeons, takoyaki, egg fried rice, bibimbab (fried and put on top), egg shin ramyun

Gluten is present in all noodle dishes, tempuras, jeons, any dishes with soy sauce and kimchi. (all gluten-free dishes are labelled with a severe allergy or intolerance, please talk to a member of staff)

Milk is used in the cheese for the corn cheese, creamy onion chicken and all additional toppings in ramyuns, tangs and jijgaes. Traces of milk is found in the tempura batter, chicken batter and pancake batter.

Most of our food has sesame seeds as a garnish on top of food. Sesame is used in the sesame green salad, sesame oil is used in all bbg dishes, bibimbab dishes and fried udon dishes.

Soy is present in almost all dishes (please ask staff for specifics, as there are many dishes with soya)

Mustard is used in padak only

Fish sauce is used in dishes with kimchi & any dish with fish cakes
