Message From Your Executive Director: OCTOBER 2025

As the leaves start to change and the air turns crisper, it seems like life speeds up for everyone. Around here, fall is a season bustling with activity—festivals, family events, and traditions both old and new. For many, this time of year is a juggling act: kids settling into the school routine, calendars filling up with sports and lessons, and workplaces picking up the pace after summer. If you're part of the "sandwich generation," you know better than anyone what it means to be pulled in all directions at once, balancing the needs of growing children and supporting aging parents or grandparents, often while still managing careers and everything else life throws your way.

We know that when a loved one moves into our community, it's usually because families need a helping hand. What might come as a surprise is how often you'll hear from us, too, inviting you to join in for a meal, a festival, a musical performance, or just a moment to connect. We do this not to add to your already-full plate, but because we believe that staying connected, even in small ways, means everything to the people who live here—and to those who love them.

Still, we understand that you can't be everywhere at once. Sometimes, you're running from a school bake sale to a weekend tournament, and there just isn't enough of you to go around. Please know: we see you, we appreciate you, and we're grateful for every moment you share with us, even if it's just a phone call or a note sent in.

This month, as we roll out fall celebrations and family-friendly events, we hope you'll find a few minutes to join us when you can. Our doors are always open, and there's nothing better than seeing families come together, whether for a pumpkin craft, a game night, or just to laugh and swap stories. Maybe, just maybe, our little gatherings will make it a bit easier to spend time with your loved ones, all in one place.

Thank you for trusting us with someone so important to you. We're honored to be part of your extended family.

Sincerely,
Sira Nsibirwa

From Wisconsin Fields to World Adventures: Richard Hadler's Story

Meet Richard Hadler, whose handshake is as steady as the Wisconsin farmland where he grew up. Born in Milwaukee and raised on a busy farm in Grafton, Richard's childhood days were filled with the rhythm of chores and the laughter of his two sisters. Yet, even as a boy among the fields, Richard knew he was destined for something beyond the tractor and barn.

After high school, with a sense of adventure in his heart, he joined the Air Force at the height of the Berlin and Cuban Missile Crises. Richard likes to joke that his dream of "seeing the world" mostly meant seeing a lot of Texas and Kansas, but he remembers his service with pride and gratitude. "Everyone could benefit from going through it," he says, reflecting on the friendships and life lessons that came from those years in uniform.

Leaving the military, Richard rolled up his sleeves for what would become a remarkable 40-year career in manufacturing and supervision. For nearly two decades, he managed teams at Sprig Electric, helping build the radios and televisions that once filled American living rooms. Later, at Allen-Bradley in Milwaukee, he led crews crafting the electric drives that powered the local paper mills. Richard's work ethic and leadership didn't come from a college degree, but from determination and a knack for bringing out the best in his team.

Richard's life story is also a love story. He met his wife, Judy, back in high school—she was his very first date. They waited for Richard to turn 21 before marrying, making it official while he was serving in the Air Force. Together, they shared 54 years of partnership, raising four children—Mark, Mike, Debbie, and Elizabeth—and building a family tree that now includes grandchildren and a great-grandchild. Judy passed away in 2016, but her memory lives on in the stories Richard shares and the family they built together.

Though his Air Force travels were limited, Richard's love of hunting and fishing carried him to wild corners of the globe. He's trekked through North America and even ventured to Africa, where he collected stories and a few impressive trophies—kudu, gemsbok, zebra, and warthog among them. He still smiles recalling the chill of Canadian mornings spent in search of moose, elk, or caribou.

Today, Richard is settling into community life with that same sense of adventure that's always guided him. He's proud of his long career, the family he and Judy built, and the winding path that's brought him here. If you spot Richard around, be sure to say hello—you'll likely find a new friend, and maybe hear a tale or two about a life well lived.

In the Garden

Chaplain Jim Hergenroether

"I come to the garden alone, While the dew is still on the roses, And the voice I hear falling on my ear, The Son of God discloses."

These timeless lyrics from the hymn "In the Garden" came to my mind today during my morning walk. Deviating from my normal route of paved paths through neighborhoods and parks, I chose a walk in the woods. It is the perfect time for a stroll there, with the cool temperatures putting a halt to the mosquito invasion, and the trees beginning to show-off their beauty. Winding beneath a beautiful green, yellow, red, and brown canopy, the narrow path stretched out before me. It looked like a scene right out of the movies-visually stunning. Yet there was so much more. All my senses joined in with the experience.

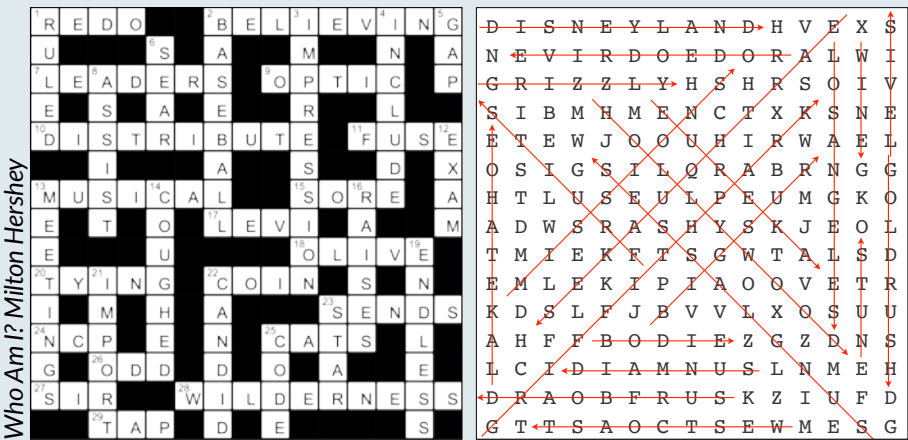

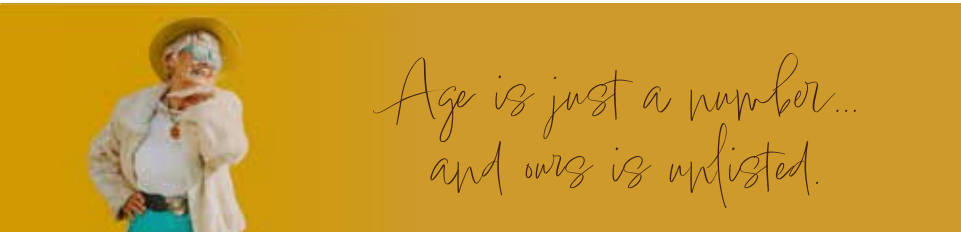

I quickly became aware of the unique aroma permeating the air. A mixture of sweetness from the leaves and earthiness from the dew-soaked ground. A sweet and sour fragrance, only to be experienced in early morning, as the woods wakes up.

I then noticed sounds coming from different directions. Above me was the rustling of the leaves in the breeze. With heightened awareness,

I turned towards the direction of crunching leaves along the ground, just out of sight. Some animal was scurrying away as fast as it could, perhaps more afraid of me than I was of it! In the excitement of that close encounter, I became aware of my racing heart and rapid breathing. And then I laughed with pure joy as I realized that on a peaceful stroll in the woods, I can still experience excitement beyond anything I could hope for!

The morning sun broke through openings in the canopy, creating rays of light angling down through the trees and warming the earth. Skittering down through these beams of light, leaves gently float to the ground. The sight of it, combined with the earthy aroma and rhythmic sound of the leaves in the trees, led me into worship. "And the voice I hear falling on my ear, the Son of God discloses." In that moment, the beauty of His creation overwhelmed me. My only response was to praise the One who created the heavens and the earth.

Genesis 1:12 (ESV): "The earth brought forth vegetation, plants yielding seed according to their own kinds, and trees bearing fruit in which is their seed, each according to its kind. And God saw that it was good."

TEAM MEMBER SPOTLIGHT:
JAMES CLARK

We're proud to introduce one of the newest members of our Renaissance team—James Clarke, Director of Maintenance!

Hi everyone! My name is James Clarke, and I've been working at Renaissance for about a month now as the Director of Maintenance. I was drawn to this position because of the location and the building itself. Before joining Renaissance, I worked as an auto technician by trade and spent 25 years at Monticello Apartments. I'm also a military veteran, having served in the Army Reserves, and I've lived in Hill Farms for 57 years.

Outside of work, I enjoy simple, relaxing moments—like catching some extra sleep when I can or sitting by the fire in my backyard with my two dogs. I've been married to my wife, Tasha, for many years, and we have two children, a son and daughter. As well as one granddaughter, our only grandchild.

As I continue to settle into my role here, I'm most excited about keeping the facility clean and safe while putting smiles on the residents' faces. I look forward to getting to know everyone, so if you see me around, don't hesitate to say hello!

We're so glad to welcome James to our Renaissance family and look forward to the hard work, dedication, and heart he brings to our community each day.

A Walk Down Halloween Edition
MEMORY LANE
Tell me about your favorite Halloween.

Jo C. Its funny, I was just thinking about Halloween the other day. I remember loving the kids coming around and having big smiles on their faces from the candy they got

Tom L. I remember I had a brown grocery store bag I used trick or treating and filling it was very rare. I remember one year I filled it all the way up and then I was able to give it to kids who didn't have access to Halloween treats

Sandy M. My favorite Halloween memory was at a century store on the end of the street and as an elementary school class we all went. It was totally dark, not a light on, and I don't remember exactly what we did, but I just know we all had fun and remember that trip.

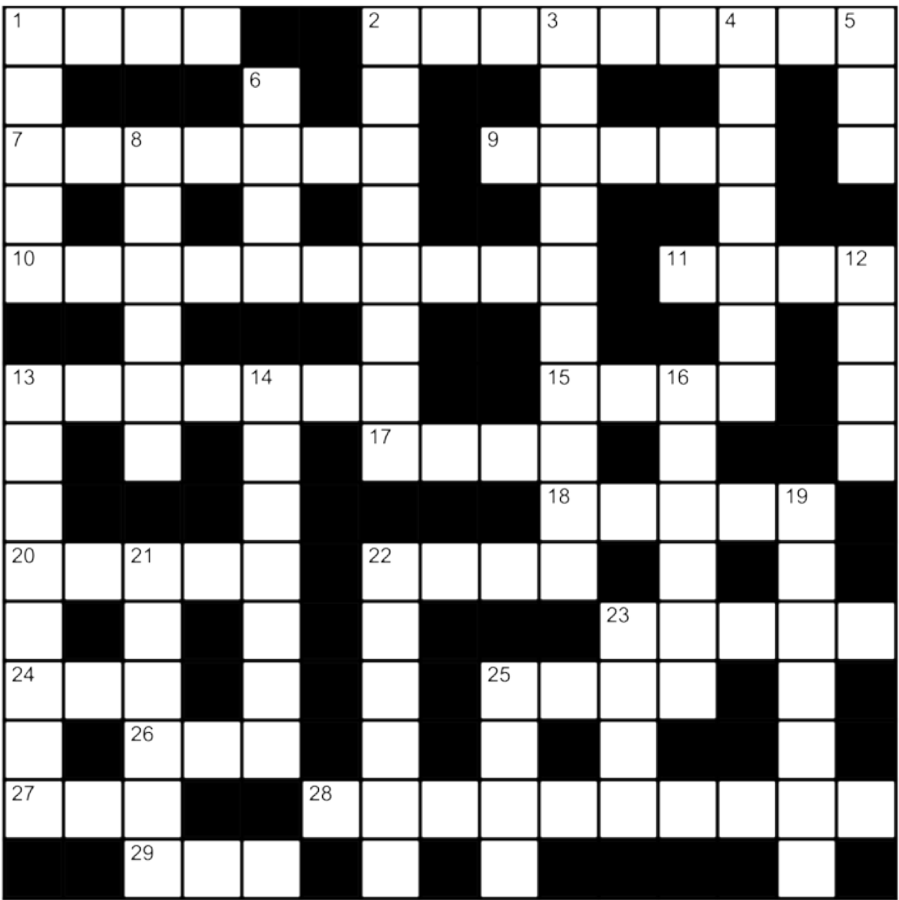

Al W. Well, my family and I enjoyed looking at all the houses' Halloween decorations and were able to visit with our friends.

WHO AM I?

I was born in Pennsylvania in 1857 and grew up with a love for sweets. After several failed attempts at starting a candy business, I finally struck success with caramels—and then went on to create a chocolate company that became one of the most famous in the world. I believed in giving back, so I built a town for my workers and founded a school for children in need that still thrives today.

My name has become almost synonymous with chocolate. Who am I?
