Drink From The River

Words & Music by Marty Goetz
© 2006 Singin' in the Reign Music/ASCAP

You say you're traveler just passing by
Your road has been long
Your throat's parched and dry
And while on the way you heard someone say
There's a fountain for the weary in heart

Chorus:
That gives you drink from the river
The river of life,
Gives you drink from the river that never runs dry.
Drink from the river, the living water
Where all who are thirsty can be satisfied

I've little to offer a stranger like you
Some rest and some shelter it's the best I can do
So you're welcome to stay and oh by the way
This fountain I've heard of it too

Chorus:
I've heard it gives drink from the river
The river of life
It gives drink from the river
That never runs dry
Drink from the river, the living water
Where all who are thirsty can be satisfied

Bridge:
They say it gives hope to the hopeless
And gives peace to the troubled mind
A way that the lost and seeking can find
Where there's strength for the lame
And there's sight for the blind

They say there's a teacher from Galilee
Who says if your thirsty come, come to me

And if you believe you will receive
A fountain that flows from your heart.

Chorus:
Drink from the river, the river of life
Come and drink from the river that never runs dry
Drink from the river, the living water
And oh what pleasure,
In that water from the river
The river of life.