I know a girl named Jenny, as many of you do
To me she is not like any other girl I ever knew
When we met I was beat and broken, yet, somehow, she let me in
Then I plopped myself down in her life, to make sure life could begin

I can remember Jenny, happy bright and free
Things that were threatened from the day that she bumped into me
Jenny and I were married, back in 1984
I knew then I had found a pretty bride, now I know she is so much more

See, Jenny understands
Jenny, she forgives
I'll never doubt her, and without her, I just don't know how I would live

I love a girl named Jenny, I have most of my life
The Lord showed He loved me when He gave me Jenny for a wife
Seems from the time I saw her, a story would be told
That God made us for each other, and with each other, we'd grow old

Jenny, she's my joy
Jenny's my best friend
We're tested and tried, and so with my bride, we'll walk side by side until the end

I know a girl named Jenny, soft as silk, sharp as a knife
And I couldn't count the many ways that Jenny's saved my life
Oh I know I owe all to Jesus, He's the one who made me free
And I believed I would go to heaven, when to Him I bowed my knee
But when I met a girl named Jenny
That's when heaven came to me

Oh yes, I love a girl named Jenny
And I'm happy she loves me
