Light Is Sown For The Righteous

Words & Music by Marty Goetz
Singin' In The Reign Music
© 1984 Singin' In the Reign Music. Licensed by ASCAP

Light is sown for the righteous,
Joy is known by the upright in heart
Peace is grown and love is planted by those who cry;
Now they're weepin' but how they're reapin'
When angels come to gather
And bring them to the kingdom of their Father

Light is sown for the righteous,
Joy is known by the upright in heart
Peace is grown and love is planted by drawing nigh;
What he's concealin' He'll be revealin'
When angels come to gather
And bring them to the kingdom of their Father

The Lord will fulfill His purpose for me
His covenant love endures forever
Do not abandon the works of your hands,
And we'll do our best to harvest the fields of white

Light is sown for the righteous
Joy is known by the upright in heart
Peace is grown and love is planted by those who die
He knows they're sleepin' their souls He's keepin'
'Til angels come to gather
And bring them to the kingdom of their Father
They have their hope in the heavens openin'
That's when He'll come to gather
And tell them, "Welcome to the Kingdom of your Father,
Welcome to the kingdom of your Father!"