20 years ago—20 years ago
Planes of terror brought down our gleaming towers
20 years ago
People covered in dust and ash
Cities smothered in smoke
20 years ago—and to this day we know

We will Never forget, We will always remember
Just where we were
When it all changed forever
We will never forget
That day in September
Watching in fear—through those desperate hours
That beautiful morning
Moments before
We knew a world—we know no more
We can never forget
We will never forget

'Yitgadal, V'yitkadash'
The prayer for mourners we pray
Tears like rivers have washed the earth below
They're still shed today
Our Messiah—He also wept
For those we loved, those we lost
20 years ago—He knows each name and so

We will Never forget, We will always remember
All the brave heroes who ran to the danger
We will never forget—that day in September
Some cried 'Let's Roll'—Others died saving strangers
Many would pay the ultimate price
What can we say of such sacrifice
We can never forget—We will never forget

The dust has cleared—the dawn has broken—raging fires gone at last
From the ash—hope has risen—clothed with steel and glass
A symbol for our children
Of liberty and strength
May each new generation
Look up and say—what we say today

We will Never forget—We will always remember
To hold loved ones near—for we're not here forever
We will never forget—Every year in September
Freedom is dear—We must cherish it ever
So we have come—to this solemn day
Our hearts as one—We gather to say—We will never forget
We can never forget
Twenty years, now, and yet…
We will never forget
We will never forget!
