The Clarion

Today you'll notice bells in the service. Wouldn't you like to hear more? We are officially kicking off a fundraiser to restore the church clarion. Clarions are the bells that play music. We have begun to apply for funding and grants, and invite you to invest in this project too. Any funds given will be ear-marked only for the bell. If it doesn't go through - because, let's admit it, the world is unpredictable! - these funds will be returned to you. So if you'd like to help make this possible, please use an envelope and write on it "bell" or write as much on your check or etransfer.
