PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

The Station at The Commons is a purpose built hospitality and cultural destination located at the center of Lexington's emerging entertainment district. Anchored by The Rail performance venue and adjacent to RDI Distillery, the building is designed to capture pre show and post show energy through curated food, beverage, and music driven concepts. Ground floor spaces open directly to the central plaza, supporting indoor outdoor activation and night forward programming, while short term luxury rentals above extend visitor stays and on site spending. The Station is intentionally limited and curated for operators seeking a flagship location in one of the city's most significant new districts.
