A Note From The Teacher

We began the week with a Monday morning prayer service about our theme for Lent – “Sent Forth Like the Saints.” We received ashes on Wednesday and started a journal in which we’ll reflect on the saint we learn about each day and plan how to emulate their virtues. This week’s saints were St. Clare of Assisi, St. Francis de Sales, and St. Joseph. Today, we sacrificed socializing by having silent lunch then prayed the Stations of the Cross.

Reminders

Please encourage your child to read at least 20 minutes at home each day. So far, five students have met their February reading goal. We have one week left! The permissions slip for the annual Run the Halls event put on by the Wellness Warriors is due Thursday, February 26.

What We Are Learning

This week, we continued to learn about correctly using prepositional phrases. We also began preparing for our new writing unit by reading an example personal narrative and brainstorming topics for our own personal narrative.

In art class, students voted to skip the oil pastel art project in favor of an iris folded cross for Lent.
