Recommendation letter

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to highly recommend Bart Bongers for the advertised position. As Associate Professor in the department of Industrial Design at Eindhoven University of Technology, I had the privilege of supervising Bart throughout his Master's. Bart consistently demonstrated exceptional skills and strengths that are highly relevant to product design. His ability to collaborate effectively with a team is truly admirable, and he has consistently worked well with his peers and colleagues to produce outstanding results. I have no doubt that Bart's excellent interpersonal skills and collaborative mindset would make him a valuable asset to your team. He is highly skilled at conducting user research, analyzing results, and presenting findings with recommendations. During his studies, he conducted extensive research on natural daylight and incorporated this in his design project, which demonstrated his ability to take a deep dive into complex topics and produce insightful results.

Bart has also demonstrated remarkable determination and perseverance, and he is not afraid to pursue his goals with passion and dedication. He has a natural ability to work with feedback, which not only helps him to improve his work but also helped fellow students to do the same. Bart has a deep understanding of user experience and is skilled at empathizing with stakeholders to ensure that the inherent complexity of an assignment is analyzed, understood and considered during the design process.

In conclusion, Bart Bongers is a curious, eager, and enthusiastic individual who impressed me with his skills and knowledge. I am confident that he would be an excellent addition to your team, and therefore I highly recommend him. If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Best regards,

Mathias Funk
