Thinx: Period and Bladder Leak Underwear

Thinx are reusable, absorbent underwear designed to replace or back up traditional pads, tampons, and diapers for period and bladder leaks. Thinx offer a practical and empowering alternative that reduces the frequent adjustments that disposable products require. The underwear manages moisture independently for hours, which lowers the physical effort of bathroom routines and minimizes reliance on caregivers. They provide discreet, reliable protection that boosts everyday confidence, reduces sensory discomfort from bulky materials, and supports greater personal independence.
