Immanuel is a member congregation of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. Being a Synod means that its members walk together united in doctrine, that is, we are united in HOW we confess that Jesus is Lord. The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod has its headquarters in Kirkwood, MO just outside St. Louis. In many ways people think of the Synod in much the same way they think about pastors. We know that they are important, but we are not entirely sure what they do day to day. This is where that joke, which needs to be taken out back and shot, comes from: Pastor, you only work one day a week! Yet, Pastors and the Synod as an institution have many, many irons at the fire at the same time.

So that we can have a better understanding of what the Synod does as a whole and the resources it offers to its members like Immanuel, we will have two special guests for this month's Mission Festival on October 20th, Frank Kremer and Chaplain Craig Muehler. Frank Kremer serves as a Mission Advocate for the LCMS and has family ties to Lockwood through the Melvin Backs family. During the Bible Study hour he will give a broad presentation on the Synod's ministries. He will help us learn what it is that Synod does. Chaplain Craig Muehler is the Director of LCMS Ministry to the Armed Forces. He will be serving as preacher that Sunday on Ephesians 6:10-17 with the theme "Are you ready?" The mission committee will provide donuts and coffee during the Bible Study hour in the FLC for Mr. Kremer's presentation. Following the 10:30 service we will have a potluck also in the FLC. For this Mission Festival, we will take a special offering that will go toward our financial support for the work of the District and Synod. Please use your MISSION OFFERING envelope which is a white envelope bordered with yellow. I pray you will come and invite others to join for this festival as we celebrate our life and work together as Synod as fellow citizens of the Kingdom of God.

In Christ,

Pastor Kyle James Fittje

Update on Restored Hope Against Addiction

Classes continue at the Center of RHAA every Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m. Attendance is low at this point, of anywhere from 3-6 in attendance. We know that RHAA needs to change in that we may need to also provide a live-in location as there are not enough beds for people seeking recovery facilities. Or, another possibility is to partner with a recovery center in Stott City whereby once or twice a week the group in Stott City comes to the Center for RHAA for a meal and class. But then there is the transportation issue. I plan to meet again with the director at the Stott City facility to explore possibilities, as the RHAA Board has already met with the director. There is a lot of planning ahead for us.

In 1998/1999 we began and completed the building of a house for a family in the group that was in the recovery process, had completed RHAA classes, and stayed abstinent. A family was chosen and they leased the house for 4 years and have now purchased the home. The house was sold to the family for $55,000. RHAA had about $60,000 in the house not including labor and cost of insurance. I am pleased that this goal of building a home was met. One of the triggers for continued addiction is poverty and being forced to rent "houses in bad repair" at the cost of $500-$700 a month in order to obtain housing. So the recovering addict feels hopeless of ever seeing better days. By the grace of God and by your support, one family now lives recovered lives, has their children in our public schools, and the parents work full time jobs in Lockwood.

Every Monday, I lead a class for ladies who live in the housing unit in Greenfield. The class is called "Family and Friends" teaching spouses how to deal with loved ones who are addicted to alcohol and drugs or both. Most of all the 6 ladies that attend have been beat up by their spouses, ran for their lives, and now have gained safety. The goal of the classes is to educate these women on breaking the cycle of addiction in their families, in the lives of their grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. It is a long, slow, process of initiating change and these classes motivate these women to be motivated to maintain their efforts.

Thank you for your support, your prayers, and your encouragement, for your labor is not in vain.

Sincerely,
Pastor Griffin

Update on Cancer

By the grace of God and your prayers I still live! After 4 radiation infusions the CT scan showed that the neuroendocrine tumors in my liver and spine have not changed. The tumors did not grow but have not shrunk. The oncologist considers this a win and so do others who are living with cancer. I have accepted it as a win as well, but then in the back of my mind, I was hoping that after 4 rounds of radiation that the tumors would have shrunk. I still get tired by mid-day and I try and get a little nap in which does give me energy to complete the day. According to my lab reports my white blood cells, red blood cells, hemoglobin, platelets have been low for the last 3 months. The oncologist counseled me in knowing that radiation damages the bone marrow and it takes time for the bone marrow to regenerate so that it produces more white, red blood cells, platelets and more. Right now, every 4 weeks I go to Springfield Hulston Cancer Center for a lan-reotide injection which is supposed to keep the tumors from growing. On October 28th I'll have another CT scan and then November 4th I'll meet with the oncologist to see what the next course of action will be.

In the meantime, I continue working with RHAA, pastor at Trinity Lutheran, Sarcouxie, teach classes in Greenfield, can vegetables from the garden, and try to keep my yard landscaped with the help of others. In God we live and move and have our being and may God bless us with health and strength to meet each day and have a mind like that of Christ to be a servant to all.

In Christ,
Pastor Griffin

The Lutheran Hour

October 6 "Fit to Be Tied" Lutheran Hour Speaker: Rev. Dr. Michael Zeigler

A strong knot in the right place holds everything together. God made Jesus to be the "Master Point" to bind all people to Himself through faith.

(Genesis 30:8)

October 13 "Difficult People" Lutheran Hour Speaker: Rev. Dr. Michael Zeigler

With God, all things are possible, even how to deal with that difficult person in your life.

(Genesis 31:6-7)

October 20 "Children of God--No Longer Losers" Guest Speaker: Rev. Dr. Leopoldo Sanchez

God turns lost losers into forgiven sons and daughters. Through Christ, we too become children of God's kingdom, members of His household.

(Hosea 12:2-6)

October 27 "God-Struggles" Lutheran Hour Speaker: Rev. Dr. Michael Zeigler

It's been said, everyone you meet is fighting an unseen battle. God calls us to enter the struggle of those around us because, in Jesus, God has entered our struggle.

(Genesis 38:28)

MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE FOOD PANTRY

We are all aware of the tremendous cost increases at the grocery store (sometimes as much as 3 times).

Donations to the pantry have been extremely low, so any donation, however small, would be greatly appreciated.

Canned meat and proteins are in specific need (stew, beef, tamales, ham, etc.) as well as sugar, salt & pepper, cooking oil.

Also needed are basic personal hygiene items.

There is a red wagon the north entry where you can leave donations. Thank you.

LWML

The Bookstore is contained on a shelving unit located across from the meeting room and is run by the LWML. We have a variety of greeting cards by the box or by the card, as well as books, Bibles, gifts, etc. If there is something special you are looking for or need to order something from CPH, you can contact Robin Eggerman. Not part of LWML but also located on the bottom shelf are cookbooks and history books which can be purchased through the church office.

Greetings in Christ Jesus, Brothers and Sisters in Christ!

Classes are now in full swing here in St. Louis and my classmates and I are settling into what has become the new normal. No longer are we out doing ministry, preparing sermons and Bible studies, visiting the sick and homebound, or working with volunteer groups or youth. We are eyeball deep in classwork, assigned readings, homework, and the joys of student life. I think we are all trying to keep our heads above water!

Personally, this semester is going to be a hard one. I am finding it quite hard to balance my vocations of student, husband, and father. I feel overwhelmed with schoolwork yet guilty when I come home and isolate myself in our office to get schoolwork done when I could be helping with the girls, getting dinner ready, or helping keep the house clean. Pray for me! The work that I am doing in class is good, and will be to the benefit of my future congregation, but I don't want that vocation to overshadow being a dad to my two little girls. It feels like I am going full-tilt as a student to the detriment of my family. I need to work on that balance! Figuring out a work/life balance is something that I recognized I needed to work on over vicarage, and I guess God is giving me the opportunity to continue working on it this year as I juggle with schoolwork again!

I am really enjoying my preaching class this semester. We are talking a deep-dive into different kinds of preaching structures, and are working on how to arrange sermons in different and engaging ways. Looking ahead at the syllabus, we will be going over image-based sermons soon. I am really excited about those! Preaching with art was something that I enjoyed over vicarage, and I am eager to explore that further in more detail. There's much more work to be done than writing sermons, though! I am in two exegetical (Biblical language) classes focusing on the gospel of John and the Psalms, as well as my aforementioned Christian Literature class (which has been really fun!). I also have two classes with Dr. Joel Biermann, who is a treasure to be in a classroom with—albeit what many would call a 'tough' professor! Needless to say I've got my work cut out for me this semester... But I know that I can do it. I am also happily relying on Dreama's advice on the matter: "If you don't get all A's, they're still going to call you, 'pastor'!" I am truly blessed by her, aren't I?!

I hope this letter finds you well as we continue to wait together for the return of our Lord Jesus. As we continue to look to the sky and expect our Lord at any minute, do not neglect the vocations that the Lord has given you to do today! Hold me accountable to this, too! May our Lord bless and keep you now until Christ Jesus comes back to usher in the New Heavens and the New Earth, which will have no end. Until then, look to the sky and get those hands to work! (something I have to tell myself a lot, these days!)

Grace and Peace to you in our Lord Jesus,
The Eggermans

Tracy's Key Players Recital

Piano students from Tracy's Key Players studio put on a terrific show at Thiebaud Auditorium in Lamar on August 13. The show was called Outlaw Roundup: Not Your Ordinary Piano Recital. All students sang the opening song, Don't Fence Me In, which also featured Andrew Hedeman whistling the tune. Each student was an "outlaw" who had a wanted poster showing their face along with their "crime". These "crimes" included such things as "squeezing a month of practice into one day", "checking phone during piano lessons", "extortion: requiring payment for playing piano", "being a drama queen-in-training", and even "being blonde". The sheriff, Dax Wolf, announced each "outlaw" while ringing a cowbell and hanging their poster as they came on stage. After playing two songs, the jailer, Dax Frickenschmidt, escorted each "outlaw" not to Carnegie HALL, but rather to Carnegie JAIL. With 18 piano students, there was a wide range of western songs to enjoy. Some of the classics included Desperado, Home on the Range, Red River Valley, The Streets of Laredo, and even theme songs from Little House on the Prairie and The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly.

Intermission entertainment was provided by the ensemble of Bruce Wolf (guitar), Tracy Bean (piano), and Kynlee McCulloch who played drums for the song Apache. Kynlee also played a trumpet solo, The Lonely Bull. The students sang Deep in the Heart of Texas (with audience participation on the clapping) to kick off the second half of the show. The last performance of the night was a piano TRIO called Legend, played by Lauren Caldwell, Lyla Scott, and Molly Hedeman. The show concluded with the students singing Happy Trails to You, followed by Andrew shooting off his cap gun. This definitely was not an ordinary piano recital, but it was a fun way to end the summer!

News & Updates:

God continues to go before us, and our Launch Team is thrilled to share the following updates from September:

- Trinity's voters gathered for a special congregational meeting on September 15th and voted unanimously to explore leasing space at Trinity to Springfield Lutheran High School. The next step in the process will include liaisons from Trinity and the SLHS Launch Team working through the drafted lease together. The agreed upon lease will then go back to Trinity's voters in the next month or two for final approval. We are so grateful for this support!
- Our governance subcommittee filed for our 501(c)(3) status with the state of Missouri, and has begun collecting nominations for the SLHS Board of Directors.
- The SLHS website went live! Check it out at springfieldlutheranhs.org.
- We hosted our first-ever SLHS event on September 19, where we announced our Founding Families program and opened pre-enrollment for the 2025-26 school year! Over 130 supporters attended, and it was incredible to meet with people of all ages excited to see a Lutheran high school launch in Southwest Missouri! Supporters from Springfield and surrounding communities were in attendance, including Branson, Monett, Freistatt, Lockwood, and Joplin.

How You Can Help:

- Please spread the word that pre-enrollment is now open for the 2025-26 school year! This applies to current 8th and 9th graders, who will be freshmen and sophomores next fall. Pre-enrolling by October 15 offers the greatest financial benefit for families through our Founding Family Program. Email us at info@springfieldlutheranhs.org to request a pre-enrollment packet with all the details!

Prayer Requests:

- For approval of our 501(c)(3) and tax-exempt status with government entities to be expedient.
- For the team from Trinity working to develop the lease agreement.
- For volunteers, donors, and staff to help launch the high school.
- For families to have peace, discernment and provision as they consider enrollment.

Many have prayed for years to have a Lutheran high school in Southwest Missouri, and we believe the time is now! We look forward to continuing to share regular updates moving forward. If you have any questions, comments, recommendations, or ideas, please send them our way at info@springfieldlutheranhs.org.

Thanks again for your support!

Humble Stewards

As stewards, we are the recipients and caretakers of God's goodness, love, mercy, and grace. Stewards are managers of God's creation. We acknowledge God as the owner; therefore, we are to act not as owners but as managers because our lives and resources are simply on loan from Him.

The book of Daniel gives an account of a man who failed to recognize God as Creator and provider and exalted himself. King Nebuchadnezzar, walking on the roof of "his" royal palace, surveying "his" kingdom, was overcome by pride as he announced, "Is not this the great Babylon I have built as the royal residence, by my mighty power and for the glory of my majesty" (Daniel 4:30)? He thought he was asking a rhetorical question, but God condemned him to live like an animal as a consequence of his pride.

Pride is destructive. It destroys gratitude to God for all His kindness to us. It destroys our desire and ability to serve others. It destroys contentment for it feeds our competitive nature so that we are not satisfied with just being wealthy or intelligent, but we want to be wealthier and more intelligent than anyone else.

Pride has no place in the life of a servant. First Peter 5:6 reads, "Humble yourselves, therefore, under God's mighty hand that He may lift you up in due time." It is God alone Who can exalt us (Psalm 75:7). If Christ Himself, God's only begotten Son, humbled Himself, should we not follow His example and humble ourselves? Because Christ humbled Himself, God exalted Him (Philippians 2:9)

David, the shepherd-king, put our situation in proper perspective: "When I consider Your heavens, the work of Your fingers, the moon and the stars, which You have set in place, what is man that You are mindful of him, the son of man that You care for him" (Psalm 8:3-4)? The inference is that we are insignificant, yet David goes on to remind us of what we can be proud: "You made [us] ruler over the works of Your hands; You put everything under [our] feet."

Humility allows us to accept our smallness and God's goodness. In the words of Martin Luther, humility is the decision to "let God be God". We are stewards through humility. We are to honor Him with what we have, what we are, and what He will make of us.
