History of IARC

The Indiana Association of Regional Councils (IARC) is a statewide, 501(c)(3) association of 16 organizations that provide comprehensive, regional planning services that are coordinated with local governments in Indiana.

Most of the IARC member regional councils were formed under I.C. 36-7-7 more than 50 years ago, and are funded by member county dues, multiple grant sources and fee-based services, and have governing boards or commissions comprised mainly of local officials.

Established in 1997, IARC provides a statewide forum for directors, staff and board members of regional planning organizations in Indiana to network and share ideas that promote economic and community development, transportation planning, smart growth and a multitude of other issues on a regional basis statewide.

IARC supports regional development efforts that prioritize and categorize local community and economic development needs and projects based on urgency, feasibility and determined regional priority. The individual services provided by IARC member organizations vary by local jurisdictional authority and local project and planning needs.

ESTABLISHMENT OF REGIONAL PLANNING COMMISSIONS

Indiana Code 36-7-7 – Establishment of Regional Planning Commissions Sec. 2

...The legislative bodies of all the counties in a region may, by concurrent resolutions, request the establishment of a regional planning commission. Official copies of the resolutions must be forwarded to the governor, who shall then appoint himself or a member of his staff to immediately notify the other members of the commission and to act as temporary chairman for the election of officers. The commission, shall by resolution, designate a name for itself that reflects the commission's role and function and that may include the words "Regional Planning Commission."

ESTABLISHMENT OF METROPOLITAN PLANNING ORGANIZATIONS

Federal legislation passed in the early 1970's required the formation of a metropolitan planning organization (MPO) for any urbanized area with a population greater than 50,000. An MPO is a transportation policy-making organization made up of elected representatives from local government and transportation authorities. MPOs were developed in order to ensure that existing and future Federal-aid expenditures for transportation projects and programs are based on a continuing, cooperative and comprehensive (3-C) planning process. Federal funding for transportation projects and programs are channeled through this planning process.

MPOs differ greatly throughout the country and within the State of Indiana. Some MPOs may have large staffs, while others may only include a director and a transportation planner. In many urban areas existing organizations, such as councils of government, may also serve as MPOs.
