

Mostyn Lodge Newsletter February

Edition

February has been a chilly month here at Mostyn Lodge, but signs of brighter days are already peeking through. Despite the cold, we've spotted spring bulbs pushing up through the soil, and a few cheerful daffodils have already opened their petals. It's lovely to see the first hints of the new season arriving.

A Fond Farewell to Melody

This month we said goodbye to Melody the dog, who joined us for her final visit. Melody has been a wonderful companion to many of our residents, always bringing joy, calm, and a wagging tail. She and her owner, Anna, are moving on to new ventures and sadly won't be able to visit us anymore. We're grateful for all the comfort and smiles they've shared with us over the years.

Birthday Celebrations

February has been full of celebrations, with three birthdays marked this month. And with four more birthdays coming up in March, we're preparing for even more festivities. That's a whole lot of birthday cake to enjoy together.

The Month of Love

We embraced the spirit of February with sweet treats, handmade cards, and plenty of warm moments shared among residents and staff. It's always lovely to see the building filled with kindness and connection.

Welcoming New Residents

We're delighted to welcome three new residents to Mostyn Lodge this month. They are settling in beautifully, getting to know their neighbours, and making their new rooms feel like home. We're so pleased to have them with us.

Looking Ahead

As we move into March, we're all looking forward to longer days, warmer weather, and the full arrival of spring. With flowers beginning to bloom and more sunshine on the way, there's plenty to feel hopeful about.
