October 2025 Newsletter

lovefirstumc.org

Through our Visioning process, it has come up several times that people in the congregation (you!) want to hear more of a connection between what we are facing in this modern era, and our Methodist heritage. I hope that our series, “How is it with your soul?” is helping you reflect on our DNA as people who follow Jesus in a specifically Methodist/Wesleyan way, and that it is also giving you ways to articulate and practice your faith everyday. In 1742, John Wesley published a short pamphlet titled “The Character of a Methodist” in which he described several characteristics. He began the pamphlet by saying the following, and I wonder if you resonate with these things as being true of us as Methodists today:

- 1) Methodists are “happy in God”, rejoicing that we find assurance in being children of God (Romans 8:16)
- 2) In everything Methodists give thanks (1Peter 5:7)
- 3) Methodists pray without ceasing, continually walking with God even when not in church or in private prayer (1Thessalonians 5:17)
- 4) Methodists love their neighbors, offering love even when it is rejected (1John 4:21)
- 5) Methodists are “pure in heart,” being without envy, malice, or wrath (Matthew 5:8)
- 6) Methodists are focused on God’s will (John 6:38)
- 7) Methodists avoid evil, refraining from words and acts which might hurt others
- 8) Methodists do good to all - neighbors, strangers, friends, and enemies

Whew! That’s a high bar! But you know where the Wesleys got the bar from? None other than Jesus. Which is good news, because that means that we can practice living this way while also leaning on God’s grace and knowing that whenever we get it wrong, we can name it; ask for forgiveness; and try again, strengthened by God’s love.

Our Stewardship theme this year goes hand in hand with our roots as Methodists, because it is Lean into Love. Whenever we “lean in,” whether literally or metaphorically, we get more engaged; we connect with what is being said or done; we shift our weight towards that which is important to us. I think that’s a perfect description of what Methodists, at our best, have always done— Leaning into Love is shifting our weight, our resources, our time, our investments, and our energy towards love; towards God; towards all that we want this world to be. It’s hard to know how to respond to this world that is hurting so deeply. So let’s start here— locally— with what is right in front of us and lean into love so that we can make an impact of love in the greater St. Cloud community, in Minnesota, and in the world.

Let’s Lean into Love.

Lean into Love!

Dear Friends,

With the arrival of autumn, our church community begins preparing for the year ahead. This October is our stewardship month—a time to reflect on how God is calling each of us to be generous with all that we have in support of the ministry of the church for 2026.

Theme: "Lean into Love"

Our stewardship program this year centers on the theme, "Lean into Love." Inspired by the parable of The Good Samaritan, we are reminded of Jesus' call to love our neighbors as ourselves. Throughout October we will explore stories of faith that will guide us as we consider our gifts for the new year, culminating in the reading of the Good Samaritan story on Consecration Sunday.

The church community has also been hard at work on a visioning plan that began last January and has included an all church visioning day; conversations with leaders and staff; and three different listening sessions this summer. Hopefully you have been involved and contributed to this effort. The work has yet to be finalized, but we'll share what we have heard so far and the possibilities it offers for the future of our church community.

Here is what to expect

- On October 5th, 12th, and 19th, our Sunday worship service will include members of our community sharing their personal stories of how they have given to God through the ministry of the church and why they are inspired to "Lean into Love".
- In mid-October you will be mailed and emailed an RSVP for our Consecration Sunday event. Please make it a priority to RSVP and to pray about how God is calling you to give in 2026.
- Sunday, October 26 will be Consecration Sunday. We will consider together the deeper meaning of Jesus' teachings on love, the parable of the Good Samaritan, and wisdom for us as we prepare for our future. Come celebrate in community as we all offer what God is calling us to give and then celebrate God's generosity as we enjoy the Consecration Celebration Event after worship.

LEAN INTO LOVE

Financial Update

The financial health of our church remains stable. While we have faced some unexpected expenses with regards to the building this year, we are on course to meet our budgeted targets. A highlight of this year has been our ability to pay off our mortgage and install LED lighting throughout the building (the Sanctuary lighting plan was not done because it's part of the ongoing Capital Campaign.) Both of these things mark steps forward towards sustainability when it comes to our commitment to the earth and to our financial resources. The consistent faithfulness and generosity of this church community has truly been a blessing over the years.

There are many reasons for us to be grateful! May we all prayerfully consider our gifts for 2026, experience the joy of generosity, and lean into love for God and our neighbors.

With gratitude,
Rick Ellis, Finance Chair
Pastor Leah Rosso

Wesleyan Covenant Groups

Five Covenant Groups have launched this fall so far...but there's still room for you! Inspired by John Wesley's model of intentional spiritual community, Covenant Groups are a space to check in, grow deeper in faith, and ask the central question: "How is it with your soul?"

It's simple to start. Grab a few friends, meet over coffee or a meal, and pick up a Covenant Group packet (available by the name tags in the entry). Or ask someone on staff to help facilitate a connection so others who might be interested in making connections as well. Start on your own timeline and see where the Spirit leads.

CELEBRATING ST CLOUD PRIDE WEEK!

This prayer was shared in worship on September 21 and requested by many of you:

Dear God,
creator of everything broken and beautiful,
Thank you for giving us the courage to defy what culture calls us to be. Thank you for this space designed for hearing the unheard--queer people, young people, neurodivergent people, people of color, people of all kinds. Because you call us all beloved.

God of all things bleak and blessed,
I carry the pain of justifying my existence, my whole self is authentic, good, and human.
My queerness does not change that. Yes, I am queer, but I am also human and it is our shared humanity that connects us all, no matter our chosen labels or the labels thrust upon us.
We have been pushed around and shoved down, but we will not be silenced. Community is one of the great gifts we have. Our diversity is our strength. Our uniqueness is our joy.

God of all that is barren and bountiful, give us courage to push forward. Help us know when to fight injustices and when to rest in your grace, when to shove back, and when to surrender to peace. Grant your reassuring presence to every person struggling. Be near the queer teen that has not come out yet. Remind every queer person their life is sacred. For those who have no safe place to be themselves, shine your light in their darkness.

And as we gather here today, help us remember that we are not just surviving, we are thriving.

We are not enduring, we are celebrating.

We are not just existing, we are living fully as the beloved children you created us to be.

In the name of the one who calls us all enough, who loves us all completely, and celebrates our authentic selves, let it be so, Amen.

Prayer by Jaxx

Thank you to all who walked at Pride & Peace, worked the booth at Pride in the Park, organized volunteers, and came to the Borealis concert!

A Celebration of United Methodist Clergy who worked for the Reconciling Movement

In 1972, the United Methodist Church placed language that was discriminatory to LGBTQ+ persons in the Social Principles. Shortly thereafter, people in the church began working to remove that language. That finally happened in 2024! Here are a few of Minnesota's "Reconciling Saints" for whose work we are especially grateful.

Rev. Marylee Fithian 1936-2025

Marylee felt a special calling to serve churches that had active peace and social justice ministries. She spent her life committed to service, social justice and activism.

Rev. Dr. Richard "Rick" Huskey 1950-2025

In 1977, while in process to become an elder, the MN Conference discontinued his orders after he disclosed he was gay. When the church closed its doors to Rick, he became a physician specializing in geriatric medicine. Following the 2024

General Conference, Rick requested to re-enter and complete the ordination process. He was ordained the day before he died.

Rev. Robert "Bob" John Lowe 1940-2022

Bob was one of the first clergy to come out as gay on the Annual Conference floor. His courage was noted and deeply appreciated by gay clergy who served but were not out.

Rev. Dr. Jeanne Audrey Powers 1932-2017

People who knew Jeanne Audrey would tell you that she was "a force to be reckoned with". She was one of the first women ordained in the UMC. In 1972, she co-created the Committee on the Status and Role of Women. In 1995, she was also the highest-ranking UM church official to come out as gay. At the time, she served as Associate General Secretary of the UMC's General Commission on Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns.

Rev. Dr. Bruce Robbins 1950-2024

Prior to coming to Minnesota, Bruce served as clergy in New York and as General Secretary of the General Commission on Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns. In 2012, he and Bishop Melvin Talbert began "Altar for All", through which clergy, laity and congregations signed statements committing themselves to fulfill their vow to ministry to all by marrying or blessing couples regardless of their gender.

Rev. Tim Tennant-Jayne 1955-2014

Tim was an elder in the Iowa Conference before moving to MN and establishing Legends Street Ministry, which ministered to individuals experiencing homelessness. He was frequently engaged in ministry at gay bars.

Rev. Judy WestLee 1942-2025

Judy was a deeply caring pastor and activist, full of hope and determination as she led and worked with others for justice for lesbian and gay people from the 1980s onward, including in leadership roles in Affirmation and the Reconciling Church movement.

New Sunday Morning Adult Education Program: What Kind of Christians are We?

Like Gerald Gurss, our speaker on September 21, many of us were raised with understandings of Jesus and Christianity that no longer fit us. Some were asked to believe things we no longer find credible. Some have seen conflict between what we were taught in church and our ideals of love, justice and compassion. Some of us have been injured by churches that condemned us or our loved ones. As a result, we may define our Christianity in terms of what we are not or are no longer. We may describe ourselves in terms like ex-Catholic or ex-Fundamentalist. They may be accurate, but they leave us without a vocabulary to articulate what kind of Christians we are.

We propose to start a series of gatherings after church where we can learn and talk about ways to understand God, Jesus, scripture, and Christianity. The goal is not to arrive at a single “correct” understanding, but to allow ourselves to “try on” different ways of thinking about religion, especially in today’s political climate.

The first session will start with a brief introduction to Progressive Christianity. What is it? What ideas are shared among Progressive Christians? Is “progressive” a label that works for us? Depending on interest, future sessions may focus on the search for the historical Jesus, Christian nationalism, the social gospel and other theologies, how we view other religions, and/or Wesleyan thought in the modern world. We also welcome ideas for completely different adult education topics.

The first session will take place in the library at 10:45-11:30 on Sunday, October 19. Conveners will be Mark Jaede and Kathy Bies-Jaede, the people who brought you Murder Mystery and Board Game Nights, so you know it can’t be too heavy.

Lean on Love:

A New Year for Youth Ministry

This fall, our Jr. High and Sr. High youth groups are launching into a brand-new year—with tie dye, energy, and a whole lot of love! Our ministry is growing and changing to meet the needs of our amazing youth.

Leadership & Spaces

Amanda will continue leading Sr. High, now meeting in their new space—the farthest classroom on the left in the Education Wing. Susie will be stepping into leadership for Jr. High, who will gather in the large main youth room. These shifts give each group room to grow, learn, and thrive.

New and Returning Volunteers

We are blessed to welcome several new volunteers to the team this year: Janet, Noah, Jennifer, AnnElise, and Rhoda! Their gifts and enthusiasm will be a wonderful addition. Alongside them, we celebrate the return of dedicated Youth Companions Dave and Josh, who continue to walk faithfully with our teens.

Leaning on Love

Working with and loving youth is one of the greatest lessons in love that God gives us. Our youth are creative, loud, and active! They challenge us with thoughtful questions that stretch our faith and call us to reflect on how we share what we believe.

Thank You

We give deep thanks to the congregation and our Love First community. You make it possible for our youth to feel safe, seen, and valued. Your support invests in their faith and future, reminding them—and us—that love is always the foundation.

Junior High Youth Group Volunteers Needed!

Good news—our Junior High Youth Group is thriving, with an average of 15 amazing kids attending each Wednesday! With this exciting growth, we're in need of more adult volunteers to support our time together. Whether you're helping with programming or simply offering gentle supervision during group and/or meal times. This is a great opportunity to build meaningful relationships with our youth—and with other adults who are passionate about supporting them. Come be a part of this vibrant and rewarding ministry!

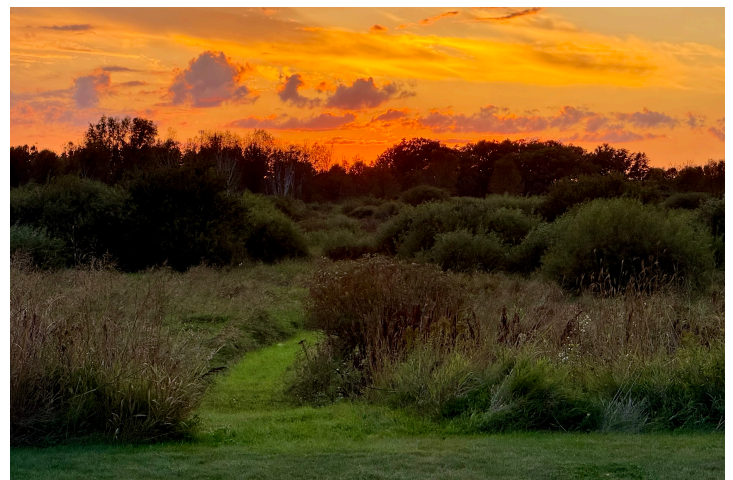

OCTOBER Communion Offering: World Communion Sunday

World Communion Sunday offers an opportunity to celebrate our connectional nature and call toward ecumenical relations as United Methodists. Here's one tangible way to demonstrate this: during Holy Communion, offer a variety of breads common across many cultures. Offer a reminder that as the sun has arisen from the East and continues its movement across multiple time zones, Christians across the globe have already received communion, many congregations are gathering for communion in the moment, and many more will begin worship soon. Another idea is to teach how to say "peace" in many languages, while sharing that Christ's message of peace is intended for everyone around the world.

World Communion Sunday is also one of six special Sundays where United Methodists are urged to participate in a special offering. The offering on World Communion Sunday provides scholarships for U.S. racial- and ethnic-minority students and international students, on both undergraduate and graduate levels, as well as grants for global inclusion, diversity, equity, and access training.
