

1

On Day One...

Jordan joined the team as a field service technician.

A pre-employment MVR check showed a clean driving record.

Everything looked great.

This employer has all employees on MVR monitoring.

Six Months Later...

Life changed outside of work.

Jordan received a DUI.

The company had no reason to know.

Monday Morning...

Jordan was still driving:

Company vehicles

To customer locations

Wearing the company logo

Once his charge was processed...

The DUI was reported to the DMV and added to Jordan's driving record.

Reportable Event

A DUI is a serious reportable event.

Real-Time Detection

Our system detected the update as soon as it was available.

Instant Employer Alert

We notified the company immediately.

Because They Knew...

Leadership was able to:

Review the driver's eligibility

Protect customers and employees

Reduce fleet risk

Maintain company policy

That's the Difference

A pre-employment MVR is a snapshot.

Continuous MVR monitoring helps employers stay informed when new reportable driving events occur after hire.

Risk on the road can change.
Your visibility shouldn't.

Protect Your Fleet Beyond Day One.

Driver records can change.
Your visibility shouldn't.

Timely Alerts

Know when reportable events occur.

Stronger Safety

Make informed decisions that protect your people.

Protect Your Reputation

Demonstrate responsibility to customers and partners.

Reduce Risk

Lower exposure and support compliance.
