Concrete Outer Burial Container Price List

A casket is commonly considered the final resting bed of a loved one. However, caskets are not designed to support the weight of the surrounding soil. Burial vaults are outer enclosures designed to support the weight of the soil and cemetery equipment. A burial vault should offer you peace of mind.

State or local law does not require that you buy a container to surround the casket in the grave; however, some local cemeteries require that you have such a container so the grave will not sink in. Either a concrete or steel grave liner or a burial vault will also satisfy these requirements.

Concrete Non-sealing Grave Liner – The concrete liner is placed into the grave. After the service, the casket is lowered into the liner, and then the one-piece lid is positioned on top of the liner. This helps support the weight of the surrounding soil and protects the casket. $1,795

Concrete Wilbert Monticello vault -- Approximate weight 2,500 lbs (Shown below) $2,395
Concrete Wilbert Continental vault -- (thicker concrete walls and lid) $2,695

This sealing vault has a double wall construction: Steel reinforced concrete with a seamless, ribbed Durapreme lining. The exterior is a hand-coated exterior with a personalized nameplate and symbol placed on the lid. The price includes transporting the vault to the cemetery, set-up by the vault company, and vault personnel handling the actual sealing and lowering of the vault after the service ends.
