Corporate Partnerships Manager

Recruitment Pack

Thank you for your interest in our Corporate Partnerships Manager role. Ayrshire Cancer Support has operated since 1982, providing emotional support and practical help to those affected by cancer; this role will play a valuable part in supporting the services we offer.

An exciting opportunity has arisen within Ayrshire Cancer Support for a dynamic, outgoing professional with a talent for building relationships to join a small, but impactful and likeminded team.

Reporting to our Director of Income and Marketing, you will initiate, plan and execute fundraising initiatives, with an emphasis on corporate and fundraising events. You'll be responsible for engaging with corporate partners and local businesses to secure donations, sponsorships and partnerships.

You'll build strong and lasting relationships with existing corporate partners, researching and generating innovative ideas to support and increase their fundraising activities. You'll apply significant focus on attracting new partnerships, cultivating relationships through pro-active networking.

You'll have excellent communication, sales, negotiation, and organisational skills, with a track record of achieving financial targets. You'll also work collaboratively with our wider team to plan and execute a range of events.

Whilst charity fundraising experience is desirable, this is not essential. This is a full-time role totalling 35 hours per week and will require some evening and weekend working, with travel throughout Ayrshire.

AYRSHIRE CANCER SUPPORT

We're here for you

About Us

We provide essential services and support across Ayrshire, free of charge, to people affected by cancer and their families. As the sole organisation in Ayrshire dedicated to providing practical, emotional and clinical support for all stages of the cancer journey, Ayrshire Cancer Support relies on donations and fundraising to deliver high quality, professional facilities and services that the people of Ayrshire depend on. From our warm, welcoming drop-in centres, through to transport to vital appointments patients may not otherwise get to, and a wide range of tailored support services in between, we are here for everyone in Ayrshire impacted by cancer, whatever the nature or level of their need.

About the Role

Our Corporate Partnerships Manager will...

- Manage a portfolio of existing and new partnerships, providing first-class account management and support.
- Identify and develop new corporate partnerships, managing the approach and building our pipeline through effective networking and relationship management.
- Monitor, evaluate and report on progress against partnership targets, activities and budgets.
- Pro-actively attend a variety of networking and other associated events throughout Ayrshire, which will involve some out of hours working.
- Support fundraising colleagues to create, plan, implement and execute events in the community, contributing ideas and knowledge.
- Work collaboratively with our wider team creating marketing materials to inspire, support and ensure every supporter feels valued, appreciated and informed.
- Make effective use of our database, delivering excellent standards of supporter experience, ensuring our systems and details are accurate.
- Work in line with the Fundraising Code of Practice, abiding at all times by the rules set out within General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

The wide range of vital services we provide costs £3000 per day.
