Welcome to the 176th Fairfield County Fair

Dear Fairfield County Fair Goers,

On behalf of the Fairfield County Fair Board, staff, volunteers, and everyone who works tirelessly to make this event possible, I would like to extend a heartfelt welcome to the 176th Fairfield County Fair.

This year is especially meaningful as we not only celebrate another year of our beloved fair tradition, but we also honor the 250th Anniversary of the United States of America. Throughout the week, fairgoers will have the opportunity to meet Abraham Lincoln as he strolls the fairgrounds and visit with a Civil War Reenactment group. Both offer a unique and educational experience, sharing their knowledge and passion for the history of our great nation.

As many of you know, the 2025 Fairfield County Fair was my first fair serving as Fair Manager/Secretary. It was an eventful, exciting, stressful, and at times chaotic week but I truly enjoyed every minute of it. Looking back, I am overwhelmed with gratitude for the countless individuals who stepped forward to offer their time, support, encouragement, and expertise both before and during the fair. There are far too many people to name, but please know that I owe a tremendous thank you to every one of you.

What makes the Fairfield County Fair so special is not just the exhibits, livestock, entertainment, or traditions, it is the people. This community is filled with caring, hardworking, and dedicated individuals who come together year after year to make this fair one of the best anywhere. You are the heart of this fair, and your support is what keeps this tradition thriving.

One of my fondest memories from last year's fair came during Friday evening. I was walking through the infield when the fireworks began. I stopped, looked around, and for a brief moment, everything became still. Tears came to my eyes as I realized we had made it through another fair. It felt like a sign that all the hard work, long hours, and dedication had been worth it. In that moment, I felt immense pride for everyone who played a role in making the fair possible.

As you enjoy this year's fair, I encourage you to stop and appreciate all the people who make it happen. If you see me around the grounds, please don't hesitate to say hello. I always welcome your feedback, suggestions, and ideas as we continue working to make the Fairfield County Fair even better for future generations.

Most importantly, be sure to visit our livestock barns and attend the livestock shows. Our 4-H and FFA members have worked incredibly hard throughout the year, and they represent the future of agriculture and our community. Your support means the world to these outstanding young people.

Thank you for being part of this wonderful tradition. May God bless each of you, and I hope you have a safe, memorable, and enjoyable week at the 176th Fairfield County Fair.

BEST WISHES,

Stacey E. Fisher

HISTORY OF THE FAIRFIELD COUNTY FAIR

1850

Fairfield County was formed on December 6, 1800, by proclamation of Governor St. Clair and was so named for the beauty of its fair fields. It contains many varieties of soil.

Lancaster, the county seat, in 1790 contained about 100 wigwams and 500 people.: It was called Tarhee or Cranetown by the Wyandotte Indians. In 1797, Ebenezer Zane opened the road known as "Zane's Trace." It passed through the site of Lancaster, and in 1800 laid out the town and by way of compliment to the early settlers from Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, called it New Lancaster. The "New" was dropped in 1805. At the north edge of Lancaster is Mount Pleasant, or The Standing Stone.

A fight here between the Indians, who had held the white girl Forest Rose, as a captive, and her rescuers, Lewis Wetzel and Albert Maywood, was the foundation of a novel by Emerson Bennett issued in 1848, in which the heroine was "Forest Rose."

Careful investigation has shown that the Fairfield County Agricultural Society was first organized in 1850 with John Reber, as President and John S. Brazee, Secretary.

The first Fairfield County Fair was held at Lancaster, Ohio, during the second week of October 1851, in a field owned by the Society's president, John Reber. This location was west of North Columbus Street and south of the Reservoir. The first exhibition was quite successful, and consequently, John Reber as president was vested by the Board of Directors with the power to purchase a permanent Fairgrounds.

Mr. Reber purchased approximately fourteen acres lying at the foot of Mt. Pleasant on its western side and north of "Lundy's Lane" (now East Fair Avenue). The 1852 Fair was held on the new location.

As the purpose of the Society was the improvement of agriculture and domestic manufacture, cash premiums were offered for the best livestock, grain, vegetables, and other products of the Home and Shops.

At first the buildings were rather crude with "Railpens" being used to confine the smaller farm animals. At that time horses were the principal means of power and transportation and so they received much attention and naturally horse barns and a "Trotting Park" (one-third mile race track) were constructed at an early date. Other buildings were erected from time to time and more land was purchased as needed.

By 1876 the Fairgrounds had expanded to 22 acres with the following buildings thereon: two amphitheatres, each 104 feet in length; a Floral Hall, Livestock Stalls, a Band Stand and other miscellaneous structures.

Premiums were paid for the highest yields per acre of the principal farm grains: corn, wheat, oats and barley.

Prizes were awarded for the Township that turned in the largest number of rat tails at Fair Time.

In 1868 Purses for the fastest trotting horse, mare or gelding were first $50.00, second $25.00, third $10.00. Starting in 1868 Velocipede (bicycle) and foot (walking) races were staged.

By 1880 the grounds had expanded to 36 acres and the new one-half mile race track was constructed with the contractor receiving 14 ½ cents per cubic yard for moving the dirt.

At that time six hundred shade trees were set out on the north part of the grounds, new cattle and sheep barns were built and much leveling and grading done.

The 1883 Fair marked the completion of a new amphitheatre 130 feet long and 50 feet high with the lower part used as a Floral Hall. The seating capacity was 1,000 and was open only to the ladies and we are told that they were free from all annoyance and as comfortable as though they were in an opera house. The same year a large reception and dressing room for the ladies was erected on the north side of the race track. At that time the total amount offered for Races (both harness and running) was $2,500.00 and the harness races the winner of the race had to win three of the five heats in each race.

As soon as suitable Exhibit Halls were available, business firms put their merchandise on exhibit during the Fair. This practice proved very satisfactory both to the merchants and the Fair management.

In 1886, the shallow dug wells and cisterns, which had furnished the only water supply, were abandoned and city water piped over the grounds.

To accommodate the exhibitors of Power Machinery, a line shaft was constructed in 1888 and Mr. Reed was employed to furnish power for the shaft with his portable steam engine. For the service for four days, Mr. Reed was to receive $18.00, he was to furnish the oil for the engine and the line shaft, the Fair Board to furnish coal and water.

As the years went by more land was added to the grounds and all departments of the Fair were gradually expanded.

Taking note of the Fair success, the Railroads ran excursions to the Fair not only from points in Ohio, but from Indiana as well.

The summer of 1889 marked the drilling of a 10,000, 000 cubic foot gas well on the grounds. At both the 1889 and 1890 Fairs, this gas was used to light the race track by standpipe flares, and both harness and running races were held at night. Fairfield County had the proud distinction of being the only place on earth where races by gas light were successfully carried on. The same time marked the use of the "Lake of Fire", gas being piped to the center of the lake and ignited as it bubbled up through the water from the perforated pipes.

1898 marked the introduction of mechanical rides for the entertainment of Fair patrons. For the sum of fifteen dollars John Gooding received the privilege of operating a steam Driven "Merry-Go-Round".

Harness Races have always been popular feature and at the present time, the track records are as follows:

For Pacers- "Toureg Seelster" 1:57.4- 2023

For Trotters- "Workintonbroadway" 2:00.3 - 2021

1904 and 1906 saw the construction of a large Dining Hall and Round Cattle Pavilion, in the order named.

After 1908 Fair, two disastrous fires occurred. They consumed all the Race Horse Barns, which covered the entire High Street frontage of the Fairgrounds, the Art Hall and both of the Grandstands. The covered bridge collapsed due to high winds and old wooden grandstand was consumed by fire.

In 1909, a new wooden grandstand was built with a seating capacity of 500. The same year the Art Hall was constructed. In the next few years, this building grew to include the Agriculture and Horticulture Departments, school exhibits and considerable space for Commercial exhibits. The combined area covered by this one roof, totals 22,000 square feet. A combined Residence (for caretaker) and Fairground office, three new Race Horse Barns and Swine Barn were added during the period 1910 through 1916.

The breeding of fancy Poultry being quite popular at that time, a new 80' x 80' Poultry building was erected in 1922 to house an extensive Poultry exhibit.

Starting in 1914, the Fair Board sponsored an annual Boy's Corn Growing Contest. These were followed by Beef Cattle, Swine and Poultry projects, for the county boys and girls. This developed into regular participation in the annual Fair by the following named Junior Groups: Schools, 4H Clubs, F.F.A., F.H.A, Boy and Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Farm Bureau Youth Councils and Grange Youth.

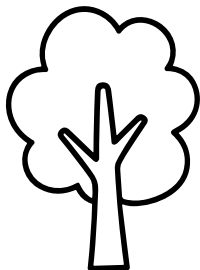

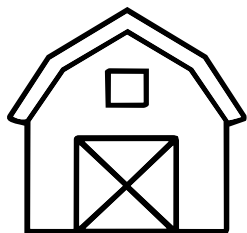

In 1927 the Wooden Grandstand was moved to the east end of the Race Track. A modern steel and concrete Grandstand, seating 2,600, was erected on the old site. The dedication of this Grandstand ushered in the first night Fair. General use of electric lights made this possible.

The first High School Band Parade was organized in 1940. Buildings added in more recent years, include the #11 "U" shaped Brick Barn in 1938; the all steel #4 Sheep Barn in 1949; Pioneer Cabin in 1953; Carroll, Ohio C & O Depot in 1966; the Joe Arnold Country Store and the Pole Horse Barn in 1969; the Roley Covered Bridge in 1972; the Administration Building in 1973; Weakley Brick School in 1976; the Livestock Pavilion in 1977; the Pole Beef Cattle Barn and the replica of a 1930 Hasoline Station in 1979; the #50 Swine Show Barn in 1983; the Brison's Doctor Office in 1985; the Mount Zion United Brethren Church (Huddle Church); #52 Show Arena in 1990; the #10 AAA Multipurpose Building in 1999, the #14 Ed Sands/ Fairfield County Farm Bureau Building in 2008; #14 extension Ricketts Family Hall addition in 2013; #22 ladies and men's restroom was added in 2023; and the Art Hall Men's and Womens restroom 2026.

The Fair office was located downtown on West Main Street until September 1973. Fair Management has through the years anticipated the needs of the community, both agriculturally and commercially.

The Fairfield County Fair during all the years of its existence has experienced foul weather and sunshine, depressions and boom years, has operated annually even through the unsettled conditions caused by five major wars. The Society has grown from operating in a pasture field with only borrowed money in the treasury to the unincumbered ownership of the grounds containing 68 acres on which are 49 buildings and all necessary accessories for the use and convenience of the exhibitors and the visitors, who annually attend this Exhibition.

The physical growth of this organization can be measured, but no one is competent to recount its contribution during the past 176 years to development and improvement of the community and the nation.

KING ARTHUR FLOUR- FUDGE BROWNIES

RECIPE

These rich brownies combine the ultra- moist texture of fudge brownies with the subtle rise of cake-like brownies for the best of both worlds. The batter comes together quickly and includes the important step of melting the sugar and butter together. This partially melts the sugar and creates the classic shiny, crackly top that everyone loves on homemade brownies.

Ingredients

- 4 large eggs
- 1 ¼ cups (106g) Dutch-process cocoa
- 1 teaspoon table salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon espresso powder, optional for enhanced flavor
- 1 tablespoon King Arthur Pure Vanilla Extract
- 16 tablespoons (227g) unsalted butter
- 2 ¼ cups (447g) granulated sugar
- 1 ½ cups (180g) King Arthur Unbleached All-Purpose Flour
- 2 cups (340g) chocolate chips

Directions:

- Preheat the oven to 350°F. Lightly grease a 9" x 13" pan. If you plan to turn the whole sheet of Fudge Brownies out of the pan at once, grease the pan, line it with parchment, and grease the parchment.
- Crack the eggs into a bowl, and beat them at medium speed with cocoa, salt, baking powder, espresso powder, and vanilla for about 1 minute, or until smooth. You can do this while you're melting your butter (next step)
- In a medium- sized microwave- safe bowl, or in a saucepan set over low heat, melt the butter, then add sugar and stir to combine. Or simply combine the butter and sugar, and heat, stirring, until the butter is melted. Continue to heat (or microwave) briefly, just until the mixture is hot (about 110°F to 120°F), but not bubbling; it'll become shiny looking as you stir it. Heating the mixture to this point will dissolve more of the sugar, which will help produce a shiny top crust on your brownies.
- Add the hot butter/sugar mixture to the egg/cocoa mixture, stirring until smooth.
- Add the flour and chips, stirring until smooth. Again, adding the chips helps produce a shiny top crust.
- Spoon the batter into prepared pan.
- Bake the brownies for 28 to 32 minutes, until the edges feel set and the center looks moist but not uncooked. When testing to see if brownies are done, take a toothpick or the tip of a sharp knife and carefully poke it into the center of the pan, digging around just enough to see the interior. You should see moist crumbs, but no uncooked batter. Yes, you'll be left with a small crater in the center of your brownies; just cut around it when you're cutting the brownies into squares.
- Remove the brownies from the oven and cool on a rack before cutting and serving
- Store any leftover Fudge Brownies, well-wrapped, at room temperature for 5 to 6 days. Freeze for longer storage

Directions:

- In a medium saucepan, brown 1/2 cup of butter by melting it over medium heat, then letting it cook and bubble for an additional 3 to 5 minutes, or until the foam and butter underneath is golden brown. Immediately transfer it to a large, heatproof mixing bowl and swirl a few times to help stop the browning. Let it cool to room temperature, about 30 minutes. Meanwhile, allow the remaining 1/2 cup of butter to soften.
- Preheat the oven to 350°F.
- To the browned butter, add the softened 1/2 cup of butter, brown sugar, and granulated sugar. Using a stand or hand mixer, beat on medium-high speed until the mixture has lightened in color and texture, 2 to 3 minutes. Reduce the mixer speed to low. Add the eggs and vanilla, and beat until smooth, scraping the sides and bottom of the bowl as needed.
- In another medium bowl, whisk to combine the flour, baking soda, and cinnamon. Add the flour mixture to the butter mixture in 3 parts, mixing on low speed until fully incorporated after each addition. Scrape the sides and bottom of the bowl as needed. Add the oats, pecans, coconut flakes, and chocolate chips, and mix on low speed or stir with a spatula to combine.
- Line two large baking sheets with parchment paper. Using a 2 tablespoon cookie scoop, drop cookie dough onto the baking sheet, leaving about 2 inches of space between each cookie. Bake for 12 to 14 minutes, or until golden brown and dry in appearance on top. Let the cookies cool for 2 minutes on the baking sheet, then transfer to a cooling rack to cool completely. Sprinkle with flaky salt.
