Teens Taking Action | Kit 10 Photography as Creative Activism

Engagement 1 | Read and Reflect

Read about a project launched in Belgium, in which empowered youth took aim with their cameras to capture issues involving sexual harassment related to Sustainable Development Goal 5. These teens took on the challenge to document the issue as well as provide recommendations to Parliament. What can you learn from their experience? If you were to participate in this project, what would you take photographs of? Collect your responses in your journal.

Engagement 2 | Explore and Reflect

Learn about a Unicef project called Alone Together: Young Artists Creating Community Despite Coronavirus. Explore the photographs more deeply on the project's Instagram page. Reflect in your notebook. How do these photographs make you feel? What do they make you think about? If you were to engage in this project, what are some ideas you have about what you would create?

Engagement 3 | Photography Challenge

It's your turn to take the RYW Photography Challenge! Pick one of the projects outlined in engagements 1 or 2 OR select a personal project of your own to use photography as creative action. Then hit the streets with your camera in hand. Be sure to share your work in the youth gallery or email them to rockyourworld@creativevisions.org.
