Geothermal Hub

Accelerating Innovation in Geothermal & Subsurface Energy

The Geothermal Hub at IMAGE is a dynamic, high-visibility destination dedicated to advancing geothermal energy through applied geoscience, engineering innovation, and cross-industry collaboration. Designed for both geothermal specialists and professionals transitioning from oil and gas, the Hub showcases how subsurface expertise is powering the future of clean, reliable energy.

Through technical insights, real-world case studies, and open dialogue, the Geothermal Hub connects ideas, talent, and technology—bridging traditional energy disciplines with emerging geothermal solutions.

Hub programming includes:

- Technical presentations featuring geologic, geophysical, and engineering workflows, geothermal case studies, and company technology updates
- Live podcast recordings highlighting industry leaders, innovators, and project success stories
- Panel discussions on workforce transition, commercial viability, and scaling geothermal projects
- Myth-busting sessions addressing technical, economic, and regulatory challenges
- Informal networking events fostering collaboration across geothermal, oil & gas, and broader energy sectors
