

Introducing Steve Reiss, Advisory Board Member

Steve Reiss, Advisory Board Member, is living out his childhood dream of working in the family business. At the age of 6, Steve dreamt of 'being just like Dad' and one day running Division 7 Roofing, the family-owned business. With that goal in mind, Steve earned his Bachelor's in Business Management from The Ohio State University and graduated in 2016. Steve has been active in the roofing business since 2012, working on weekends and during summer breaks. During high school Steve worked at Wickertree Tennis Club, and post-college at Choice Recovery prior to becoming full-time at Division 7 Roofing in 2019, initially as the Controller and currently heading the Sales/Marketing team. As Division 7 Roofing, Steve has shown support for FCA as a sponsor of the annual FCA Golf Outing.

Steve has a strong background in athletics playing both golf and football during High School. Due to a football injury, Steve focused on Golf during college. He was introduced to FCA in 2015. Both he and Matt Dascenzo were part of the same Home Group at Dwell Community Church, they connected, and Steve began volunteering at FCA Huddles. Steve has a heart for volunteering and has served with Her Song, Grace Haven and Faith Mission. As an active member of Dwell Community Church since 2012, Steve ran a High School Bible Study Group at Dwell between 2013 and 2015. Steve is amazed at how receptive youth are to the Gospel as he has witnessed on numerous occasions, how it only takes one champion to drive the rest of the group forward to God's purpose for their life.
