Growing up in the St. Louis area, Mark attended Vianney High School where he excelled on the court as a member of the volleyball team. His hard work paid off with a state championship and spot on the USA Youth National Team in 2001. After graduation, Mark accepted an athletic scholarship to attend The Ohio State University where he met his beautiful wife, Danielle. As a Buckeye, Mark saw continued success on the court cumulating in 2005 when he achieved a career (game) high 24 kills as well as All-American status leading the Buckeyes to the NCAA Tournament Final Four. After beginning his professional career in the mortgage industry, Mark, at the age of 30, was selected to help start a brand-new company that would later become Lower.com. As the tide began to turn in both his personal and professional life, Mark became president of the Tithe Foundation whose goal is to make a significant impact through the non-profits in our communities and mission to multiply individual contributions for the glory of God through business and non-profit partnership.

Also in 2023, Mark start Tithe Lending where mortgages and mission meet. Traditionally, a tithe is a portion (10%) of income given as an offering. At Tithe Lending, they take that principle and apply it to their business. They believe in investing in the communities they serve by donating 10% of their mortgage revenue to the Tithe Foundation. Through Mark's leadership as a founding partner of the Tithe Foundation, he brings the marketplace together creating a community that is working to make an impact while investing in the growth and deployment of their God given resources along the way.

In his own words, Mark describes his approach to live, "My faith in our Lord Jesus Christ is my number one asset, and how I base my identity. I had a deep desire to blend my faith with my everyday work. This desire formed the basis for Tithe Lending. I founded Tithe Lending with my business partner with the mission to honor God with our work, and to love our neighbors with the proceeds.
