The nature of the chiropractic adjustment: The Primary treatment used by Doctor of Chiropractic is spinal manipulative therapy. Dr. Estner and/or associates may use his/her hands or a mechanical instrument in such a way as to realign the joints. This may cause an audible "pop" similar to the noise when you crack your knuckles.
The material risks inherent in a chiropractic adjustment: As with any healthcare procedure, there are certain complications which may arise during chiropractic manipulation therapy. Some types of manipulation of the neck have been associated with injuries to the arteries in the neck leading to serious complications including stroke. Other types of complications include but are not limited to the following: fractures, disk injuries, dislocations, muscle strain, cervical myelopathy (nerve injury) and burns. Some patients will feel some stiffness and soreness following the first few days of treatment, this is normal.
The doctor will make every reasonable effort during examination to screen for contraindications to receiving care; however, if you have a condition that would otherwise not come to the doctor's attention, it is your responsibility to inform the doctor.
I have read the above explanation of the chiropractic adjustment and related risks. I have discussed this document with Dr. Estner and/or associates and have had my questions answered to my satisfaction. By signing below, I have weighed the risks involving and undergoing treatment and have decided that it is my best interest to undergo the recommended treatment.
