

Humanity's Team 2022-2023 Report

Our Galileo Moment

The Awakening of a Conscious Humanity

THE PROBLEM AND THE POSSIBILITY

We see around us every day the effects of what Einstein called the 'greatest illusion in the world', the illusion of separation. The symptoms are everywhere. The news is filled with reports of war and its accompanying devastation to humans, animals, and the Earth itself. Our political leadership is polarized, and contributing daily to the coarseness and divisiveness of our public dialogue.

Everywhere a victimhood mentality has seized the day resulting in never-ending drama triangles where we look for some 'other' to blame. We are witnessing an epidemic of isolation, tribalism and despair. And everywhere we see transactional minds feeding into these problems, bent on filling the needs, wants, and desires of a separated sense of self.

In the face of all of this, we would like to share some good news -- we have a choice.

We can choose to see the world in a different way— one that is more true, more good, and more beautiful.

Humanity is at a turning point. We would like to share some good news.

We can choose to continue down the current path where more pain is simply inevitable. Or we can adopt a new truth and begin to realize— literally make real— the fact that we are not separate as it seems to us now. The truth is that we are all parts of one interconnected and interdependent reality that includes both the physical and nonphysical worlds within which we live and move.

This is not a new idea. Ancient philosophers spoke of this regularly. Scientific breakthroughs in diverse disciplines ranging from quantum physics to molecular biology to geoscience are all confirming the fundamental truth of the interconnection of all life.

Getting the Truth right is the 'first domino'—the first principle. Realizing that we are structures of the universe (as Einstein clearly stated), and that our discrete and separate 'body' is a naive illusion of the senses, brings us to a new moment.

It is a “Galileo Moment” where everything we thought was true is less true than we thought. We are no longer the center of our world and as separate as it seems. We are all One.

Advancing the fundamental truth that we all are One is the core mission of Humanity’s Team.

We believe that it is the most important mission on Earth because it sets us on a path to health and well-being at an individual and collective level.

THE TIME IS NOW. WE ARE THE PEOPLE WHO WILL MAKE THIS HAPPEN... TOGETHER.

We want to continue to live on this planet, to thrive as a species, and leave a safe and healthy place for future generations.

Recognizing our Oneness is no longer optional.

POINTS OF LIGHT

You are not alone. Humanity's Team is a gathering point, a community of people who believe that the taproot of all positive change is a change in consciousness. As Einstein said a century ago:

"No problem can be solved from the same level of consciousness that created it."

Humanity's Team gathers, nourishes and educates those who are seeking to grow, who want to expand their horizons, and see the world through clearer eyes. As we raise our own consciousness, we spread the message of conscious living to those around us by our example.

Together we are Humanity's Team.

We are points of light.

We number in the hundreds of thousands, and that number grows every day.

OUR TEACHERS

Humanity's Team is home to over 123 faculty members who have created programs and masterclasses that are shared with the world on Humanity's Stream+. Hundreds of other teachers and luminaries contributed their wisdom during our annual Global Oneness Summit and on the live programs, podcasts and blogs we host throughout the year. Our faculty and teachers come from all disciplines and all walks of life. They all share unique perspectives on Oneness and conscious living.

“The body of work that Gregg Braden brings together resonates so powerfully and profoundly for me. I am so grateful for the opportunity to study with him.”

OUR COUNTRY COORDINATORS

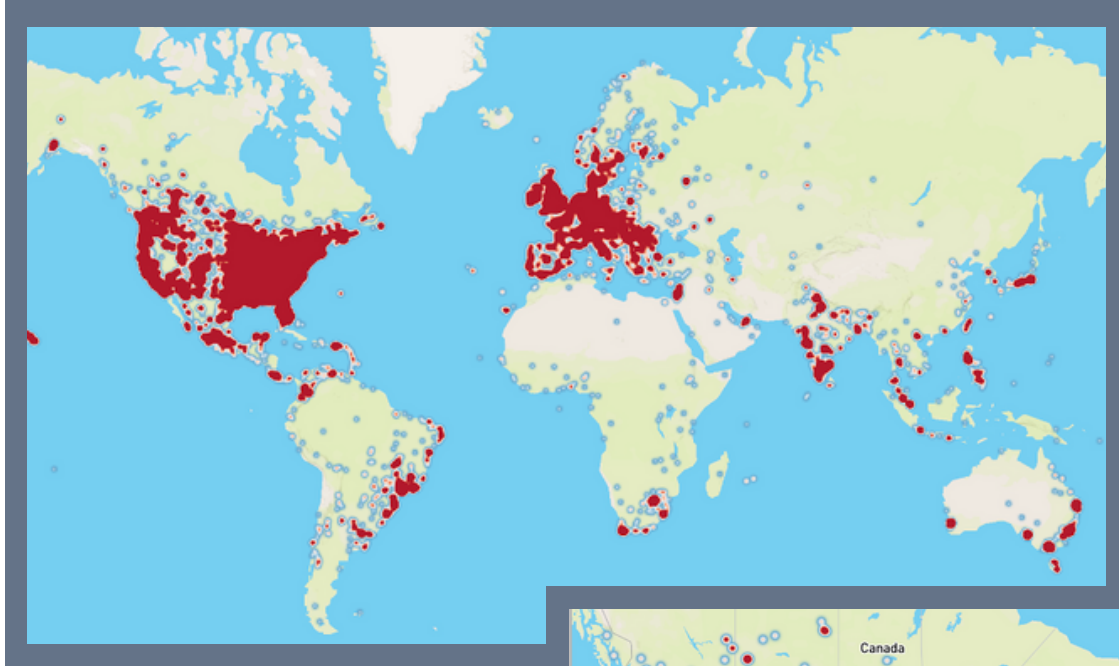

Humanity's Team has 65 country coordinators located in every continent of the world except Antarctica. They are points of light spreading the word of Oneness in their spheres of influence.

“I would say that Humanity's team is not only just a community of people with very diverse backgrounds but also a way of connecting with your true self. That's what I really love about it. So, as we always say, all for one and one for all, we are all one.”

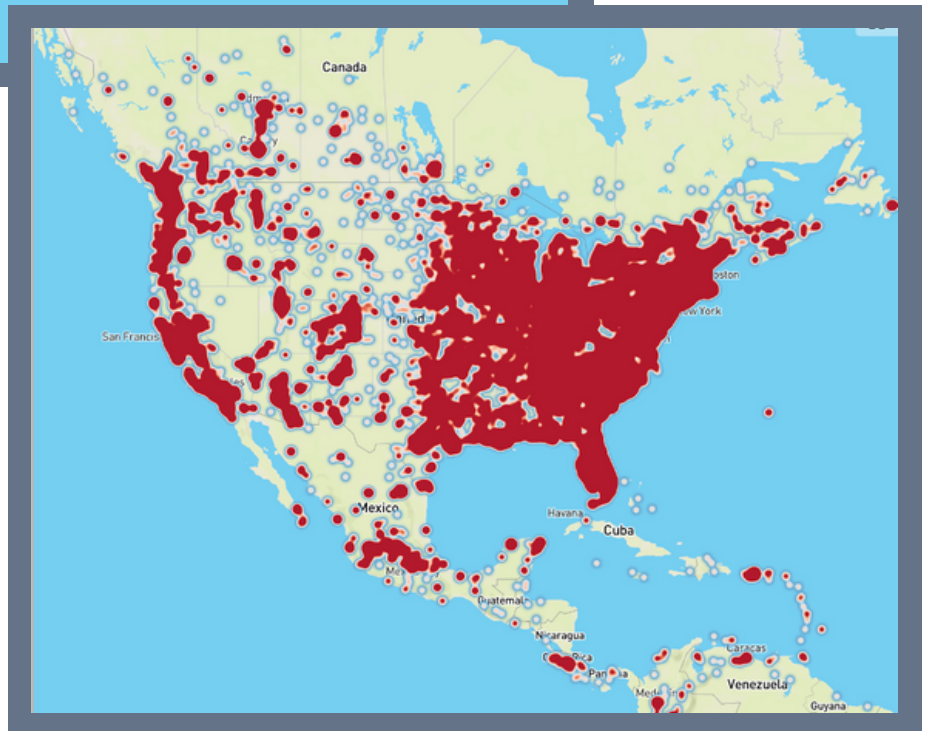

– David Parejo, UK Country Coordinator

OUR GLOBAL REACH

Global interaction with our website in November, 2023. The more red you see, the greater the impact. We reach seekers on every continent of the world.

The red on this map represents involvement over 15 minutes in North America during a single program, the "New Consciousness of Business" that aired on November 22, 2023.

"I love Humanity's Team's mission. It's to essentially make conscious living a normal thing for most people by 2040. This is an organization that is continuously launching new things that can create an awakening in many people and benefit the world as people start to be more united through their oneness than divided through their ego..."

PURPOSE + PLATFORM

Our mission is to educate humanity in the proper direction of evolution—toward greater kindness, goodness, and greater awareness of the interconnection of all things. We educate good people who want to become even better people. Our work is with those who are seeking to expand their own potential and bring ever-greater expressions of goodness, truth, and beauty to their sphere of influence.

Our community shares what they learn with their families, friends, and communities, to further a world where we all flourish.

At Humanity's Team, we believe that there is no way forward unless we work together. Over the last two decades, we have created one of the most robust platforms for the education of consciousness that exists today.

"I have been tuning into Humanity Stream+ for several years now. I recently signed up for the incredible Journey of Conscious Evolution with Jude and Andrew. It is so wonderful! I realize now that I should have, and actually could afford, (or almost couldn't afford NOT TO), sign up for Humanity Stream+. Thank you for your consideration and for all that you are doing!"

-- Celeste G.

- Humanity Stream+ streams the work of hundreds of consciousness educators 24 hours a day, seven days a week to every corner of the globe.

PROGRESS

Humanity's Team has been advancing consciousness worldwide through transformational education for over 20 years. We are still in the springtime of our mission.

Over the last two years, Humanity's Team has seen explosive growth in our outreach and reception around the world.

Everything we do is to further our goal of reaching that tipping point of 8-10% of the planet's population, so we can achieve our mission of making conscious living pervasive worldwide by the year 2040. Humanity's Team is only one of many organizations working toward this goal, but the growth of our organization is a sign of our leadership.

GROWTH IN STREAM+ SUBSCRIBERS

In the two-year period from November, 2021 to November, 2023, the number of Stream + subscribers increased from 457 to 3,125, nearly a seven-fold increase.

GENEROSITY THAT CHANGES LIVES

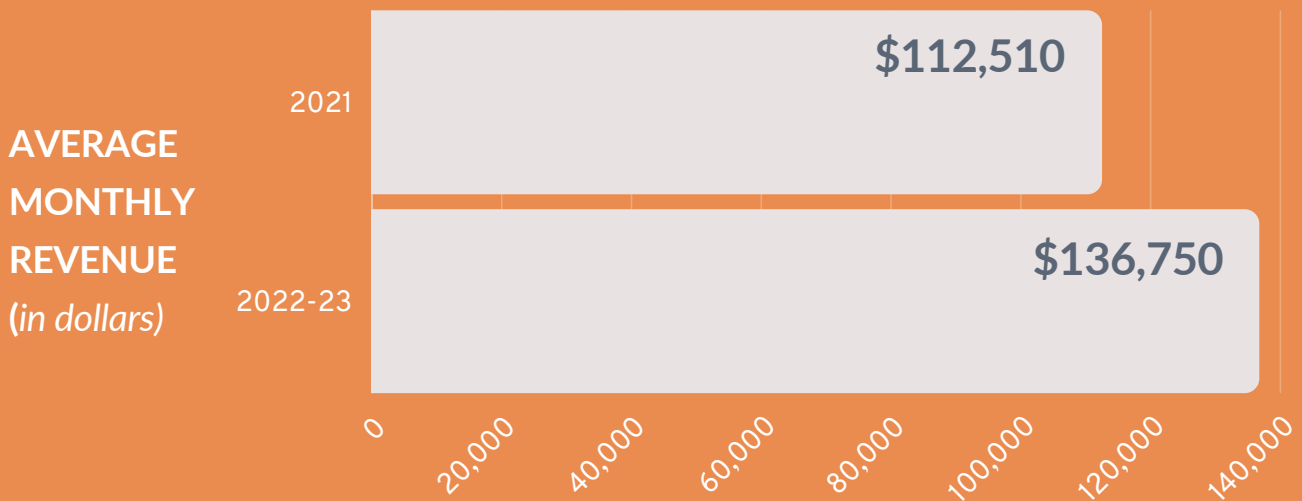

OVER 2,000 SUPPORTERS

Over the last 8 years, over 2,000 people have shared their resources to help make conscious living pervasive worldwide.

DONATIONS LARGE AND SMALL

In 2022-2023, 698 people have stepped up to support Humanity's Team with donations ranging from $1.00 to $500,000. Many of our donations come from people around the world with very limited means.

STABLE REVENUE GROWTH

Average monthly revenue has increased by nearly 18% in the last 2 years.

PROCEEDING IN ONENESS

Our mission is to make conscious living pervasive worldwide by 2040. To do this, our reach must grow from the hundreds of thousands to the hundreds of millions.

Many believe that when 8-10% of humanity is engaged in conscious living we will reach a planetary tipping point. This requires 800 million people to become conscious co-creators of Oneness on this Earth. Together we can do this.

The destination seems far, but the commitment of even one soul devoting its life to service of higher powers resonates in eternity. To put this in perspective, in Power vs. Force, David Hawkins shares that one person with a very high level of consciousness counterbalances 70 million low consciousness people living in disharmony and chaos. We are powerful as One, and with many we can change the world.

In 2022, Humanity's Team launched its Changing Humanity's Future Initiative. The goal of this initiative is to help us achieve our mission of making conscious living pervasive worldwide by 2040. We have made substantial progress, but there is much more to be done.

4 FOCUS AREAS FOR THE COMING YEAR

Raise awareness everywhere through enhanced outreach

Our goal is to make conscious living pervasive by 2040. To that end, we are launching a major push into all media, including Facebook, YouTube, direct email, publications, blogs, LinkedIn, Zoom media, and all other major platforms.

Improve our streaming platform through content curation and language translation

Humanity's Team has devoted substantial resources to creating and growing our global streaming platform, Humanity Stream+. Through careful content curation and program availability in 75 major languages, we will increase our ability to share teachings in science, spirituality, and embodied practices that provide tools to elevate consciousness.

Provide resources to consciousness-raising programs

With over 60 country coordinators across the world and others working in alignment with our mission, we will provide resources to carefully selected efforts to support consciousness-raising programs across the world.

Launch a $100 million Global Consciousness Fund

An expansion of our Changing Humanity's Future Initiative, the Global Consciousness Fund will create capital for new initiatives focused on embodying and expressing Oneness so we may create a sustainable and flourishing planet.

A Message From Our Co-Founder & Worldwide Executive Director, Steve Farrell

The Galileo Moment: It Happened in the 1600s and It's Happening Again Right Now

In the early 1600s, the scientific consensus still held that the Earth was the center of the Universe. Galileo discovered this was not true and when he shared his discovery with the rest of the scientific community, he profoundly changed the world. We live under the weight of a similar false reality today that is far more crippling and destructive — the belief that we are separate from each other, the Universe, and the God of our understanding.

Tragically, this false belief is effectively the “first domino” or root cause of the excessive dysfunction in the world. It has created the downward spiral that engulfs so many of us, leaving us with a foreboding sense of overwhelm and exhaustion at an individual level, and despairing about the increase in extreme weather and general malaise at a collective level.

The good news is that there is a simple solution to this seemingly unsolvable problem. It is to understand what has been shared down through the ages by leaders in spirituality and science, and that is now, importantly, being affirmed by modern scientific research.

For those of us who can see this, it is not only critical that we speak out and expose the false truth; we must also live into that truth ourselves and make it our reality. It is a simple fact that all of life is deeply interconnected, interrelated and interdependent in Oneness, and can be seen as diversity in unity. It is also a simple fact that we have the power to create a sustainable and flourishing planet by living into this awakened consciousness ourselves on a daily basis.

And while there's no modern Galileo, no single individual endeavoring to expose the truth, let's back up to Galileo for a minute and explore how he changed the course of history on our planet with his discovery.

Galileo used a telescope to observe our Sun and the cosmos, and concluded that the then prevailing perspective that placed the Earth at the center of the Universe (the Geocentric model) was false. He concluded instead that we were part of a solar system revolving around the Sun (the Heliocentric model). This may not sound like a big deal to us in the modern world, but it was a very big deal and very controversial at the time.

The Spanish Inquisition immediately placed Galileo under house arrest and told him to recant his announcement or forfeit his life. He did so but remained under house arrest until the end of his life. Fortunately, it was too late to erase his discovery and others with telescopes began to verify Galileo's observations. Eventually his ideas became accepted, the course of history was changed, and we've lived in a new reality from that time forward.

Today, we live in an unsettling time where many share that they feel overwhelmed and fatigued, wanting to live into their deeper core values but stuck in jobs that don't align with those values. On top of this, grave things are going on in the outside world. Extreme weather, violence and war, along with ideological and political polarity, are among the many daily challenges we face in the modern world. Neither the microcosms of our individual lives, nor the macrocosm of our collective life are well.

The good news is that there is a remedy right here, right now, that can heal this strife and discord, and its timeless and obvious wisdom has been shared down through the ages. In 400 BCE Hippocrates said "There is one common flow, one common breathing."

As was quoted earlier in this report, Albert Einstein said "The greatest illusion in the world is the illusion of separation," and "We suffer from an optical delusion (the sense of separation) that represents a prison for us... Our task must be to free ourselves from this prison to embrace all living creatures and the whole of nature."

"The greatest illusion in the world is the illusion of separation."

--Albert Einstein

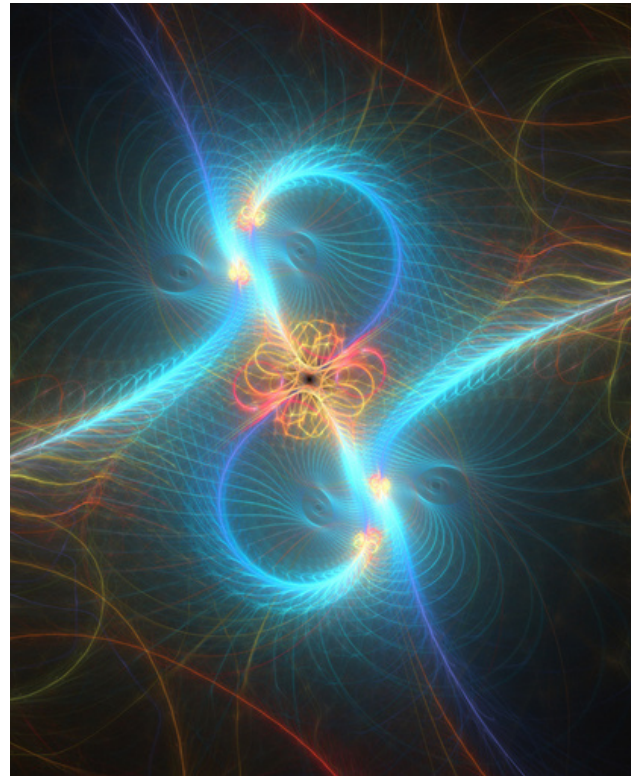

Einstein also shared how we might do this. He said that “No problem can be solved at the level of consciousness that created it,” meaning that we must look at how we perceive reality and be open to new, more awakened understandings that allow us to see clearly the mistakes we have made so we can endeavor to undo the damage they have done.

This is what we must focus on if we are to create healthier ways of living on the Earth. It is time to elevate our consciousness both individually and collectively, and there is no time to waste. This is not a luxury; it is a necessity if we are to shift our way of living in ways that will make it possible for everyone to experience peace, balance, and joy on a sustainable and flourishing planet.

Science supports this new way of living on the Earth, as when October, 2022 the Nobel Prize for Physics was awarded to three researchers for proving something called entanglement, a phenomenon where two things with no physical connection can deeply affect each other, even over great distances. Quantum physics is bringing forward substantial new research making it clear that in spite of how things look to us in the physical realm, in the quantum realm, everything is deeply connected and in a constant state of interaction.

To be sure we’re clear about exactly what this means; let’s take a closer look at it. If we believe we are separate from each other, the Earth, and the God of our understanding, and if we believe we are our physical body and have just this one life to live, it might seem perfectly okay to focus on trying to satisfy our baser desires and acquire unlimited treasure without regard for personal relationships or any other aspect of the world around us.

And while having fame, fortune, and power over others might have a certain allure, it is, of course, that kind of thinking that has contributed to putting our world out of balance and into climate crisis and extreme weather. This is also what has contributed to people taking jobs that have no connection to their deeper values and then living in fatigue and overwhelm. “Take a job and climb the ladder” can become our mantra, but this only results in that exhaustion.

But, when we instead understand that we are deeply connected to the Divine and to the world around us, and that we have a body but are not our body, and that we are pure consciousness, pure energy living in a spiritual universe, then it is a good idea to serve all of life around us, to be “in service.” We understand that we are part of a larger body and that by living a healthy life, we are a healthy cell in the body of life.

And how do things change when we live into this Oneness, this Wholeness, this Omnipresence, this Unity in Diversity? We need look no further than the nuclear family. In a nuclear family we clearly see our connection to that family unit and we live into it. If we are mature, we become responsible, and if we are responsible, we take positive action and live in service to the family in many different ways.

When we see our Oneness with the world around us, we do the same thing, except now, instead of just seeing our connection to the nuclear family, we move the fence posts out to embrace the whole of humanity, the Earth itself, and all living creatures.

We cannot do everything, of course, but we can do something. Each of us is called to our particular station in life. It can be something as small as helping an infant or elderly person, or something as big as supporting a movement involving a community or the whole of humanity and the Earth.

No longer are we detached from the world around us. We come back into harmony with the Universe that scientists share is non-dual and in perfect harmony. No longer do we ignore this and splinter off into our own delusions.

It is simply not possible to focus on pursuing financial treasure, fame or power over others to the detriment of important relationships and the world around us. Quite the opposite, we see that we are part of that world, and are, essentially, living within a super-organism that we can call Universe or something else. We are like a healthy cell in the body of the world, seeking to nurture and serve life.

From the near-death experience (NDE) community and mediums, we know that this is how the afterlife or non-physical realm is. It exists in perfect love and light. And while we do not deceive ourselves with a belief that this awareness will be embraced by everyone on the planet in the near future, and while we know it will require humanity finding a whole new way of living on the Earth, we also know there are important steps that can be taken in this direction.

We can commune with the One that some call the Divine and others call the Universe, and we can come into flow as part of our daily practice, carrying this flow state throughout our day. It's like being on a raft up above the up-and-down roller coaster that people experience before we become conscious, when we are disconnected from our true self, living an inauthentic life, and working in jobs that are not in alignment with our deeper values.

When enough of us become conscious and in flow, we will reach a tipping point where the world around us shifts to this new way of living on the Earth. This being state often deeply resonates with others who feel this energy and it is actually quite contagious. As conscious living spreads, it shifts whole communities and in time it will shift entire countries and eventually the whole world. Many experts believe we will reach that tipping point when we get to 8-10% of the population.

Getting to that tipping point is no longer a luxury. The Earth is in a fragile place and needs our attention. Living in a disconnected state where we ignore the rhythm and balance of life is no longer working. It is necessary that we pivot to a more conscious way of living on the Earth, and in doing so will bring ourselves and the Earth itself back into balance as we create a sustainable and flourishing planet for current and future generations.

This is the work of Humanity's Team. Our mission is to make conscious living pervasive worldwide by 2040, 17 short years from where we currently reside.

Conscious living is a remedy, here and now, but it must be understood and embraced, which requires education. Education can be the most powerful tool in the transformation of humanity, so this is where Humanity's Team has placed its attention, becoming the largest global non-profit in transformational education with a streaming platform available on your computer, IOS, Android TV, Fire TV, Roku, or Apple TV.

The community and platform are called Humanity Stream+, and it includes hundreds of transformational education programs as of this writing. We've added nearly 50 new programs in 2023 alone. Additionally, Humanity Stream+ is adding more and more live programs with free community viewing, including Q&As, and arranging viewing parties for those who want to go through our masterclasses together. Currently, our new masterclasses are being translated into 75 different languages, further extending our reach and impact.

Lastly, let's look for tangible results. Let's begin with ourselves. How do we evolve into new understandings about who we are? What kind of transformation or change might we expect when we embrace Unity and Oneness, become educated, and live into it?

I'll share my personal story. I was a CEO of a fast-growing tech company in 1995 when I began my own process of awakening. On the Myers Briggs scale, I was an ENTJ, this is very much a thinking and logic center of mind profile. I was the President of my Young Entrepreneurs chapter in San Francisco, and I used a time organizer to wedge as many meetings into my day as possible so I could review tasks and complete tasks.

All of this changed in the years following my awakening experience. I began a daily practice that brought me in close touch with my own interior connection with the Divine and life around me. I began to see people and the Earth as part of the Sacred and even myself.

I tossed my time organizer because it was causing me to be much too transactional. I moved into a closer relationship with my partner, and with my work partners. People began to perceive me as being more “spiritual” and I could see this in myself, as well.

My priorities shifted and I sold all my business interests and walked away from my Silicon Valley technology life so I could make room for my personal and home life and my emerging spiritual life. To say that I’ve become a different person is an understatement! In many ways, when you become conscious, you experience a whole new you. There is much more but this gets us started.

In business, Humanity’s Team took a leading role in creating a Conscious Business Declaration and a nine-month Conscious Business Change Agent program that truly transforms business. We have numerous testimonials from leaders in business who attest to the transformational change we bring to newly launched and existing businesses.

My relationship at home with my wife and young adult kids has become something I treasure. We share “I love you” throughout our day and we really mean it! It is certainly not transactional and it is even more than just relational. I like to call it Divine Presence because to me, this is what it feels like.

Humanity Stream+ is even creating programs for kids and young adults now that help them break their addiction to hand-held devices so they can become reacquainted with nature and the natural world. This is an important focus for us as we enter 2024. We’ve got outstanding programs in our pipeline right now, especially for youth to help them re-engage with the living world around them.

It is our “Galileo Moment” right here and now, our moment to at last come to understand our true reality, which is the Oneness of the Universe, real Diversity in Unity, and then to live into this awareness in every moment of our lives. In doing so, we’ll create a truly delicious and nourishing life that feels good to us in every way, and together with others, we’ll create a new way of living on the Earth.

And when we get to that 8-10% tipping point as we intend to do in the years just ahead, we will be able to create that sustainable and flourishing planet, and our generation and future generations will thank us for shifting away from the dysfunction that currently drives the world in this destructive direction. Make no mistake; we must embrace this Galileo Moment as if our future lives on this planet depend on it, because they do!

With gratitude and excitement for the future we are creating together,

Steve Farrell
