

A painting of a rural landscape. In the foreground, there are several large, cylindrical hay bales scattered across a dirt road or field. The ground is rendered with various shades of brown, tan, and green, suggesting different textures and perhaps some crops. In the middle ground, there are more hay bales and a line of trees. The background shows a distant horizon under a bright blue sky. The overall style is impressionistic, with visible brushstrokes and a focus on light and color.

KARL TERRY

JUNE 2026

We are delighted to present this exclusive body of work to you, direct from Karl's studio. I have chosen a selection of my favourite paintings for you - from the medinas of Morocco, to our adored Cornish coastline, to treasured street corners of Chelsea - and many more.

Karl works in oils producing both landscapes and cityscapes. His works are a response to what he sees in particular moments of time - figures strolling much-loved beaches, ever changing light patterns, or simple scenes of daily life, either at home or abroad. Karl loves to travel and record moments of places we love to visit!

I hope you enjoy this outstanding collection of recent work. Karl is a true "plein air" talent and it is a pleasure to represent him.

Very best wishes

An oil painting of a harbor scene. The sky is filled with textured, layered brushstrokes in shades of blue, purple, and white, suggesting a dramatic, overcast day. The water is dark and reflective, with several boats moored in the harbor. In the foreground, there are dark, rocky outcrops and some green foliage. The overall style is expressive and atmospheric. A teal square logo with the text 'DACRE ART' is overlaid on the upper part of the painting.
