

About Mona Foundation

Partnering with grassroots organizations to expand access to education and strengthen communities over time

Mona Foundation is a global community of changemakers — philanthropists, businesses, entrepreneurs, and nonprofits — working together to support education as a pathway to opportunity, equality, and long-term social change.

We partner with grassroots organizations to support education systems that grow within communities and strengthen them over time. By investing in local leadership and long-term capacity, this approach helps create scalable, sustainable social change.

Since 1999, Mona Foundation has supported organizations around the world that are educating children, empowering women and girls, and helping communities build brighter futures from within.

Why this matters

We believe lasting change happens when communities are equipped to lead it themselves.

A meaningful way for businesses to get involved.

Move4Mona is one of the ways companies can support this work — by engaging employees, encouraging participation, and helping expand access to education through a shared campaign each May.

Why Partner with Move4Mona?

Move4Mona is Mona Foundation's annual movement-based fundraising campaign that invites individuals, families, schools, workplaces, and community groups to take part in support of global education

Why companies join:

- Support education through a community-rooted model of change
- Engage employees around a shared cause
- Create a simple team-based giving or participation opportunity
- Align community impact with company values
- Participate in a campaign that works for in-person, hybrid, or remote teams

The impact goes far beyond one event.

Move4Mona supports long-term, community-rooted education initiatives that help children and youth learn, grow, and lead.

This year, our goal is to help educate 270 children by raising $35,600 through sponsorships, employee giving, team participation, and community fundraising.

For companies, Move4Mona offers a simple and flexible way to support Mona Foundation's mission while engaging employees in something meaningful.

How Your Company Can Get Involved

There are multiple ways for companies to participate in Move4Mona.

Build a company team

Invite employees to donate, register, walk, or move together.

Sponsor the campaign

Support Move4Mona financially at the level that feels right for your business.

Match employee donations

Double your team's impact by matching staff gifts.

Contribute raffle or in-kind support

Offer a product, service, or experience that helps energize participation.

Help spread the word

Share Move4Mona with employees, customers, or your wider network.

What participation can look like

- 5+ employees donate, register, or join
- One internal point person helps rally the team
- Employees invite others to support or participate
- Your team joins locally or remotely

Every step helps expand access to education.

Corporate Partnership Options

Community Partner

A strong fit for businesses that want to support the campaign and invite a few employees to take part.

Team Partner

Ideal for companies looking to combine sponsorship with employee participation.

Impact Partner

Designed for businesses that want to sponsor the campaign, activate a team, and increase visibility.

Education Partner

A higher-level partnership for companies looking to make a more significant contribution to campaign reach and impact.

Why partner now

Move4Mona offers a meaningful way to bring people together around a shared purpose — one that is simple to join, easy to personalize, and rooted in long-term impact.
