

Palmetto Brick Company

At J.L. Anderson, Co., Inc. d/b/a Palmetto Brick Company our mission is simple: to manufacture a superior product that combines the highest quality materials with exceptional customer service. We have strived to provide a level of product quality and customer satisfaction that is unparalleled in the industry and reflective of our deep family-owned roots since we produced our first brick over a century ago. Palmetto Brick has a capacity to produce more than 150 million brick per year and we remain only a handful of American owned and operated brick manufacturers in the U.S. To us, brick making is about more than the blending of clay and water. It's about building personal customer relationships and long-term bonds through an uncompromising standard of excellence. We bring this set of values to each of our customers every day.
