Accommodation:

7 berths in 2 cabins and double in saloon

The garage is topped by a sunbathing pad for two, making more room for catching rays within the cockpit social area.

The expandable al fresco dining table is embraced by sofas, sharing a backrest with the helm and adjacent sun lounger.

A configurable chaise lounge sits beside the helm station with a protected, comfortable front-row view to navigation, keeping the pilot company.

The experience at the helm is one of complete control, with a suite of intuitive tools at the pilot's fingertips. The uninterrupted front windshield means a clear view forward, adding to the excellent visibility out the elongated side windows and open aft.

The airy lower deck living area is the alignment of two essential stations, the dinette lounge that converts to a double as and when required or simply if you wish your feet up to watch the TV. A fully equipped galley to starboard with a full sized fridge and freezer, Miele combination oven, elec hob, sink and plenty of storage with Azimut cutlery and crockery. The layout sets them almost opposite, opening up common space in the square room.

The forward master suite enjoys a large island double berth, long hullside windows, full-height walking room and an private en-suite bathroom with separate shower cubicle.

A generous beam accommodates the versatile aft cabin. The side cabinet can also been configured with the optional third bed while the twin single beds can slide together to form a queen-sized bed.
