

Supply-chain partners for electronics manufacturers

Specialist knowledge of electronic components, and the component supply chain, enables Charcroft to be an expert distribution partner to electronic manufacturing services (EMS) and original equipment manufacturers (OEMs).

The line between success and failure is narrow so expert support and services can make all the difference

- Specialist component distribution for harsh & high-end applications
- Helping EMS & OEMs to solve technical and commercial challenges
- Balanced linecard of global and specialist manufacturers
- Partnering with EMS to find solutions for end-customers
- Proactive stocking profile based on order history
- Maintaining a dictionary of internal customer part numbers
- Mitigating the risks of component obsolescence
- Archiving of all quality and delivery documentation
