

Solving delivery challenges

Specialist flexibility helps to solve extended leadtimes

Find the confidence to resolve delivery and design challenges using the expertise of a specialist distributor. Flexing the critical specifications of MLCCs, resistors and other passive components can convert an extended leadtime into a much more available part.

- Trouble-shooting design challenges
- Supporting design-in for continuity of supply
- Enabling specialist though-life support
- Taking responsibility for delivering a total solution
- Thinking outside the box to find a different approach
- Getting a fast response & samples from franchised manufacturers
- Fast prototyping in our VPG Approved Precision Centre
- UK-based manufacture of custom passive assemblies
- Bespoke assembly service
