FALL 2025

FALL MAINTENANCE TIME

Regular furnace maintenance is vital to keep your heating system running at maximum efficiency. It also helps to prevent untimely and costly breakdowns and repairs. Regularly scheduled furnace maintenance allows our technicians to spot potential problems in your system before they occur, saving you both time, money, and hassle down the road.

In the event that your furnace does need repairs, our maintenance agreement customers receive discounted repairs and priority scheduling.

Fall is the perfect time to have a furnace maintenance inspection. It allows you to assess your furnace's condition before the winter's cold air sets in and could leave you with a costly repair.

Call us today to schedule a Fall furnace maintenance inspection!

Why Do I Need an HVAC Maintenance Plan?

There are several good reasons to schedule regular HVAC maintenance, including:

Energy Savings – did you know that a well-maintained heating and cooling system will perform more efficiently than one that is not? Our HVAC maintenance plan will help keep your energy bills low.

Discounted Repairs – if your HVAC system needs any repairs, members of our HVAC maintenance plan will receive them at a discounted price.

Warranty Protection – did you know that if you do not have regular maintenance performed on your heating and cooling systems, it can void your warranty? Our maintenance program will help prevent this and keep your system warranty intact.

Peace of Mind – routine maintenance ensures that your heating and cooling system is in good working order.

And Much More!

Fall Plumbing Tips

Fall Plumbing Tips (Yes Really, Winter Is Right Around The Corner...)

Now that Labor Day is past, it's time to think "Fall" and get ready for Winter. When the leaves change colors and the temperatures drop, be ready with these quick Fall plumbing tips:

1. After the leaves are done falling be sure to clean the gutters, downspouts, window wells and yard drains. Compacted leaves hold water, invite bugs, slow the flow of water away from your home and can plug up your sewer and drain lines and flood basements.
2. Check all exterior water fixtures for leaks and get them repaired before you shut off the water for the Winter.
3. Prior to the first hard freeze, shut off the water to all exterior water valves. Normally there will be a shut off valve inside the house near the exterior valve, closing that interior valve will shut off the water to the exterior faucet. Once you have shut off the water, briefly open the exterior valve and allow any trapped water to drain out.
4. ALWAYS disconnect hoses from your exterior faucets, failure to do that may cause the water in the hose to freeze and damage the valve and possibly the interior piping in your home. (If that happens, you'll get a big surprise when you turn on the water in the Spring). Store hoses in the garage if you can, as water freezing in the hose can damage the hose and shorten its life.
