Pittwater RSL Announces Q1 Nominees for Community Excellence Awards

Northern Beaches, NSW – 7th April 2025

Pittwater RSL is pleased to announce the Q1 nominees for the Pittwater Community Excellence Awards, a quarterly initiative recognising outstanding volunteers who make a lasting impact on their clubs and communities.

The Q1 2025 nominations highlight a diverse group of individuals whose contributions span grassroots sport, inclusion programs, club leadership, and community building.

“These awards aren’t about trophies or titles,” said Jason Manning, CEO of Pittwater RSL. “They’re about acknowledging the people who show up—quietly, consistently, and with purpose. Their work often happens behind the scenes, but the impact is far-reaching.”

This quarter’s nominees include:

- Skye Rose – Nominated by Pittwater RSL for her role in inclusive sports programs for children with disabilities.
- Lexie Le Blang – Mona Vale SLSC, recognised for over 80 hours of patrols and mentoring youth lifesavers.
- The Page Family – Pittwater Baseball Club, for a decade of multi-generational volunteering and leadership.
- Phil Jackson – Warringah Rugby Club, for his ongoing role in game day coordination and player welfare.
- Matt Hough – Narrabeen Sharks Junior Rugby League Club, for coaching the same team from age 4 to U16s.
- Alan “AJ” Jones – Newport Breakers Rugby Club, for a lifetime of service in club leadership and community rugby.
- Trish Pockley – Peninsula Cricket Club, for her leadership as Club Child Safety Officer and team manager for the U13s Thunder, going above and beyond to support junior players on and off the field.
- Sue Lewis – Pittwater Memorial Ladies Bowls Club, for her contributions to match coordination, coaching, umpiring, and player development.

Each nominee has been chosen for their commitment to their club’s values and for helping foster a connected, inclusive, and supportive community.
