Rhonda's Reflections

When I was a kid, I can remember every Sunday morning when my mom would have our best clothes ready for my sister and me as we prepared for church. Then she would do our hair, brushed out first, then braided or curled. There was usually some amount of fuss until my sister and I were placed in front of the television to watch the claymation series produced by the Lutheran Church, Davy and Goliath, while my Mom and Dad would get themselves dressed.

Then we would all get in the car and be reminded to “Be on your best behavior! You are going before God and everybody else and we are only bringing our best to God.” These words provided a pattern that was comfortable and knowable.

The one downside was that it took me years to realize that God didn’t want my Sunday self to show up ... God wanted all of me to show up. It was part of the duality that is so prevalent even today in religious life. The ego part of us wants to be thought of as good ... pure ... saintly ... Christian, and the ego doesn’t easily abide the vulnerability that comes from being fully known. We divide even our own selves into good and bad, and we can only take the good parts into the presence of God.

You see, our egos want us to be known as “the good people.” These are people who show us only their best side, and they are the ones we talk about over Sunday lunch. We fantasize about how wonderful their lives must be. Their fall from grace is usually spectacular when it finally comes.

Following Sunday worship, our family would often go out to eat at a Chinese restaurant near the church. One day, as we sat in a booth, an older couple were seated at a table next to us. The older couple were both impeccably dressed, with their hair perfectly in place. I remember that the woman was smiling ... constantly smiling. There was this moment though that stands out in my memory. The man got up to go to the restroom, and she stopped smiling. Not only did she stop smiling, she showed a face that had tragedy etched in the lines ... she wasn’t just sad ... she looked devastated. Then as soon as he returned to the table, the smile came back. That smile was all she would show to him ... at least in public.

For some reason, she couldn’t bring her whole self to that moment. Not when they were together. The memory of this poor woman still stands for me as a constant reminder of what it looks like when we can’t bring our whole selves into the presence of the One who knows every fiber of our being.

I have always found it interesting that we use the phrase “keep yourself together” in a way that means, “We don’t want to see your shadow self; we don’t want to see the part of you that is too real or embarrassing... we need to see only your best side.” I wonder what would happen if we changed that to mean something like:

Keep yourself together and don’t leave any part of you out. I see you, and God sees you. You are loved just as you are.

Parker Palmer writes in A Hidden Wholeness: The Journey Toward an Undivided Life the following: “Afraid that our inner light will be extinguished, or our inner darkness exposed, we hide our true identities from each other. In the process, we become separated from our own souls. We end up living divided lives, so far removed from the truth we hold within that we cannot know the integrity that comes from being what you are.”

God does not expect us to divide ourselves. As we live our lives in God’s world and, most especially, when we place ourselves in the presence of God in meditation, prayer, and worship, I think perhaps the best thing to do is to “keep ourselves together”, and don’t leave any part of you out. You are loved just as you are.

With Love,
Pastor Rhonda

FAQ About Restoring the 1954 Schantz Organ

What will happen to the organ during the renovation?

The following is a quote from Luke Tegtmeier from Schantz Organ Company:

"The console would also come back to our shop, where the shell, keyboards, and pedal-board would be thoroughly cleaned and re-finished as needed. The tilting tablets, thumb pistons, and toe studs would all be replaced with a new mechanism to work with the new electrical control system. The new electrical control system would include features such as a Transposer, a Record/Playback function, and a nearly unlimited number of memory levels for the organist to use. When reinstalled, we would also run new wires to each of the 427 magnets in the organ to bring everything up to current electrical code."

By having an updated organ with 21st-century technology, the instrument will be greatly expanded in flexibility and usability making it more inviting to recruit and retain future organists.

... when the mechanisms (leather) fail, the organ has holes in its sound production.

From the Stewardship Committee

In February we began leaving colored notecards in the pews. Please take a minute before church to answer the monthly "Stewardship Reflecting Question" that will be printed in the bulletin. Write your response on your notecard and drop it in the offering plate! Either include your name on your card, or you can remain anonymous. Responses will be compiled and shared on the screens before church services.

Prayer and Care Ministry

Prayer Team: Prayer requests are welcome for any concern or thanksgiving. Requests are kept confidential and not included in public worship screen unless specifically requested. Contact Carol Schmidt with a prayer request at cschmidt@stpaulsuccsm.com, Carol's cell (419) 305-6164, or the church office.

You are invited to the "Caregiving from the Heart Support Group" held at St. Paul's, which meets on the first Monday each month at 7p in the church Chapel—EXCEPT in July. In July we will meet on the 10th due to the holiday. This is a gathering for any caregivers (and others who are involved) whether you are doing it within your home, within your loved one's home or if your loved one resides in a care facility. The session will be led by Rev. Jeanette Tangeman. The purpose of the gathering is to support each other, learn from each other, and find helpful resources. Please call Jeanette at 419-234-7935, if any questions.

During Lent, the Women's Guild held a silent auction to benefit new blinds in Fellowship Hall. Thanks to Bernie and Marilyn Schroer for designing and donating the stain glass wall hanging. This was a smaller version of their wall hanging at the hospital. Because of their generosity, the Women's Guild raised $1150.00. There were many who took part in the bidding, but the winners were Tom and Ruth Knous.

Women's Guild Cabinet met on June 12 to discuss the 2023-2024 booklet and to discuss donations. Thanks to Gregg and Kathy Dieringer for the donation of the pie cutter. This should make our job easier. Motions were made and approved to donate $100.00 to church camp for snacks or extra food if needed (decided not to this year). Will donate $1000.00 to the Organ Fund and will increase the memorials in memory of women members who have passed from $15.00 to $25.00 with all donations going to the Endowment Fund.

New blinds have been installed in Fellowship Hall. Please check them out if you have not already done so. We are able to see out but no one can see in. Thanks to Billie Marsee for picking them out, and to DeWayne Marsee for taking down the old curtains and installing the new blinds. Not an easy job working on these windows. Many thanks to the Marsee's!

Thank you for your thoughts, cards, and prayers while I am healing from my fall. Wrist and femur are improving. I just started therapy which should help greatly!

Blessings, Kris Vanderhorst

Hello Church family, I miss you!

Just writing to say thank you so much for the grant money this year, and apologize that I couldn't be there to receive it in person. I am so grateful for the support I have received from St. Paul's over the years, and I can assure you that it is helping me grow. This summer I am in Dallas, Texas for an internship and I have never been so eager to grow in my faith. It is so comforting knowing I have a church back home praying for me and supporting me through college. St. Paul's has always been so selfless and supportive of others in their lives/faith, including myself. Thank you for teaching me the foundation of what it means to know Christ, and I can assure you I will never stop growing in Christ-likeness to share God's glory with others. Hopefully, I'll be home soon! And thank you again for your support.
