THE WORD OF THE WEEK:

Throughout the first three weeks of Advent our focus is very clearly on the End of Time, and the Second Coming of the Lord - not on the run up to Christmas (that only comes in the last week). If we view Advent as a Season preparing for Christmas these readings will make little sense - and neither will the figure of John the Baptist who appears today: if it was about the preparation for Christmas, then John the Baptist, preaching after Jesus was born, becomes a confusing figure: his role is to preach to us, as he did of old, and to prepare us for the (second) coming of the Lord. Today we have an unequivocal and very graphic reference to the end of time and the Second Coming in the reading from Saint Peter; it is a frightening picture that he paints, and so the first reading offers tender words of comfort to help us understand who is coming, and why we should be ready to meet him. The Gospel focuses on the great Advent prophet, John the Baptist, with his message of preparation - we are invited to get ourselves ready, making a way for the Lord.

SUNDAY Plus

2nd Sunday of Advent Divine Office Week II Year A

E &amp; W: Bible Sunday

The Advent messenger

You cannot tell the story of Jesus without first speaking about John the Baptist. He introduces the adult Jesus in all the Gospels. John worked no miracles, held no office, belonged to no religious party. Yet his importance for Jesus was unique: he stands as the only religious leader whom Jesus ever sought out and spoke of with deep affection and admiration. He is described as a voice crying in the wilderness, a large presence that dominates the emptiness of the wasteland.

The purpose of this energetic renewal movement is to prepare for the one who is to come. And we know that "one" to be Jesus of Nazareth. Although John has his own group of disciples, he does not make himself the focus of his prophetic witness; he does not claim that he is the way, the truth and the life. John understands his own powerful place within the larger context of God's plan, and this frees him to defer to the one who will baptise with the Holy Spirit. Jesus' greatness does not diminish John's importance: John is important precisely because of who Jesus is.

John challenges all of us to foster the greatness in others without feeling threatened about the value of our own contribution; to celebrate the importance of others because we have a sense of our own worth and value before God.

As the relationship between John and Jesus teaches us, the generosity in recognising the goodness in others can help them call out the good that is in ourselves. When that happens, there are no losers.

Fr Denis McBride C.Ss.R.,
Jesus and the Gospels

God of surprises, open my eyes to see you at work. Surprise me this Advent as I try to make more space for you in my life. Let me celebrate your goodness. † Amen.

Try to be good

People sometimes say: "We are in a society that is all rotten, all dishonest." That is not true. There are still so many good people, so many honest people. Rather, what can be done to improve society? I would say: let each of us try to be good and to infect others with a goodness imbued with the meekness and love taught by Christ. Christ's golden rule was: "Do not do to others what you do not want done to yourself. Do to others what you want done to yourself." And he always gave. Put on the cross, not only did he forgive those who crucified him, but he excused them. He said: "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." This is Christianity, these are sentiments which, if put into practice would help society so much.

Pope John Paul II

The way we communicate is of fundamental importance: we must say "no" to the war of words and images, we must reject the paradigm of war.

Pope Leo

Pope Francis, Spes non confundit, 8
