Welcome to Saint Anthony's

If you are new to St. Anthony of Padua Parish, please know how welcome you are to worship God with us. The motto of our parish is written in Latin over the front entrance: "The hardworking people of St. Anthony have built this Temple to the Lord." We know that we have been blessed with one of the most beautiful church most people have ever seen and that the Lord demands more of those who have been given more. Our goal is to allow the Lord to build with us a parish community of "living Stones" even more beautiful than the physical edifice in which we have the awesome privilege to worship Him. We would love you to become part of that building project!

Pastor Message

The Commemoration of All Souls celebrated on November 2nd, is a date of deep reverence in the Church calendar. It is the time when Catholics unite in prayer for their departed loved ones, remembering the Christian hope in eternal life. On this special day, we are invited to offer our prayers and purgatory. Through prayer, we ask God to grant eternal rest and perpetual light to those who have already departed this world, trusting in the promise of the resurrection.

Throughout the centuries, the Church has maintained a strong invitation for its faithful to pray for those in purgatory. This practice is based on the belief that the communion of saints unites us beyond death, allowing our acts of spiritual charity to benefit those awaiting the fullness of God's presence. This call becomes even more intense on All Souls' Day, when the intentions of Masses and prayers are focused specifically on the deceased.

On All Souls' Day, the Church offers the possibility of obtaining plenary indulgences for the souls of the deceased. To do so, it is recommended to visit a cemetery and pray, even mentally, for those resting there, in addition to praying for the intentions of the Holy Father, currently Pope Leo XIV. By fulfilling the usual conditions, such as confession, communion, and detachment from sin, the faithful can help souls reach heaven more quickly.

Diocese of Fall River's 'Call by Name' Campaign: In this time of prayer and reflection, the Diocese of Fall River has launched the 'Call by Name' campaign, inviting the faithful to write down the names of people who demonstrate signs of being good candidates for the priesthood. This simple gesture is a way of contributing to the Church's mission, nominating young people and adults who, with God's grace, can serve God's people as priests.

Big thanks to those who has donated for the succesful of the Bazaar this weekend. Please come to spend some time with us today.

*Dies Irae, dies Illa, solvat saeculum in favilla,
teste David cum Sibylla.*

*Day of wrath and doom impending,
Heaven and earth in ashes ending,
David's word with Sibyl's blending.*

This weekend, on the Feast of All Souls, we sing an ancient chant, the Dies Irae, during Communion—a melody whose words have echoed through monasteries and cathedrals for over seven hundred years. Its poetry envisions the final judgment, when all creation stands before its Maker. Yet far from despair, the chant speaks with trembling faith: even amid the awe of judgment, there is hope in divine mercy.

Composed in the 13th century, Dies Irae became the central sequence of the Requiem Mass, accompanying the Church's prayers for the departed. Its plainchant melody—somber, pleading, and unforgettable—captures both the gravity of sin and the yearning of the soul for redemption. So powerful is its theme that composers from Mozart and Verdi to Liszt and even modern film scores have woven it into their music to evoke death, reckoning, and the sacred. But no orchestral grandeur rivals the stark simplicity of the chant itself: one voice, one line, one heart turned toward God.

When sung during Communion on All Souls' Day, Dies Irae takes on a new tenderness. The same Christ whose judgment it foretells is the One we receive in love and mercy. Chanting these words as we approach the altar unites our prayer with centuries of believers who have stood at gravesides, beneath vaulted ceilings, and before the mystery of death, whispering, "Lord, grant them eternal rest."

In an age when sacred music often mirrors the world's sound, the Dies Irae remains otherworldly—solemn, timeless, and full of truth. It reminds us that liturgical music is not meant to entertain, but to awaken: to pull us from distraction and fix our hearts on eternity. May this ancient melody draw us nearer to the mercy it proclaims, and may our voices join the countless souls who, across the ages, have prayed for the mercy and eternal rest of all those who have come before us.

Mensaje del P. Mariano

La Conmemoración de Todos los Fieles Difuntos, que se celebra el 2 de noviembre, es una fecha de profunda reverencia en el calendario de la Iglesia. Es el momento en que los católicos se unen en oración por sus seres queridos fallecidos, recordando la esperanza cristiana en la vida eterna. En este día especial, estamos invitados a ofrecer nuestras oraciones y sacrificios por las almas de los difuntos, reconociendo el valor de la intercesión y la misericordia divinas.

Orar por los difuntos es una expresión de amor, fe y solidaridad espiritual. La tradición católica enseña que nuestras oraciones pueden ayudar a las almas que aún se encuentran en proceso de purificación en el purgatorio. A través de la oración, pedimos a Dios que conceda el descanso eterno y la luz perpetua a quienes ya han partido de este mundo, confiando en la promesa de la resurrección. A lo largo de los siglos, la Iglesia ha mantenido una firme invitación a sus fieles para que oren por las almas del purgatorio. Esta práctica se basa en la creencia de que la comunión de los santos nos une más allá de la muerte, permitiendo que nuestros actos de caridad espiritual beneficien a quienes esperan la plenitud de la presencia de Dios. Este llamado se intensifica aún más en el Día de los Difuntos, cuando las intenciones de las misas y las oraciones se centran específicamente en los difuntos. P. Mariano Varela, IVE
