— BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

Dear Friends & Colleagues of Carr Properties,

We are proud to sponsor our 8th annual Carr Cares Concert, benefiting the Washington Jesuit Academy (WJA) and the Washington School for Girls (WSG). Since 2018, the Carr Cares Concert has raised over 2.3 million dollars to support the educational opportunities for deserving young children in the Washington, DC area. This year, our goal is to raise $400,000 for WJA and WSG and, as always, 100% of the proceeds will go directly to the schools. Carr will match the first $50,000 donated.

A tuition-free Catholic school, Washington Jesuit Academy provides a nurturing, individualized, and comprehensive education to fourth through eighth grade boys from underserved communities in and around the Nation's Capital. We support and inspire our students and alumni from enrollment through high school, college, and beyond as they find their purpose through education and develop as men for others who make a difference in their communities and society.

The Washington School for Girls is an all-scholarship, independent Catholic school in Ward 8 of Washington, DC, serving girls in grades three through eight. WSG ignites the joyful pursuit of learning through a faith-based, individualized, and culturally responsive curriculum that nurtures the whole child. We walk alongside our students and alumnae from enrollment through high school, college, and career as they grow into confident young women who lead and serve.

WJA and WSG are amazingly effective at their missions, with 99% of alums going on to graduate high school, compared to the city-wide average of 75%. Together, they instill hope and confidence into their students and create a path toward purpose, leadership, and success.

We look forward to celebrating together on Thursday, December 17th with a live performance from Maggie Rose at the Bethesda Theater, our Venue Sponsor. We hope you come out, support the cause, and have some fun!

Thank you,

Oliver T. Carr, III

MEETING EVOLVING NEEDS

The Washington Jesuit Academy and the Washington School for Girls are united by a model for education that works, and every day they bear witness to its success as students demonstrate measurable growth and graduates become distinguished alumni.

To maintain this success, both schools must invest in the components that fuel it: attracting and retaining highly qualified instructors, ensuring an abundance of advanced technological resources, and enhancing the support that the faculty provides to alumni and families. These needs have and will continue to grow as WJA and WSG seek to expand their impact.

WJA recognizes their responsibility to expand the number of students whose lives they are able to transform, with a goal to increase student enrollment by 20% over the next three years. WJA will provide expansive opportunities for an enriched student experience and will bolster services provided by their Office of Student and Alumni Success, to ensure that students and alumni are given every resource available to succeed.

WSG is committed to the joyful pursuit of excellence across every dimension of school life. They are investing in graduate support, student support, and teacher development, while growing school enrollment by 25% over the next five years, extending the reach of a model built on the belief that every girl deserves an individualized, affirming education.

Your support is critical to these efforts and the success of WJA and WSG's students and alum.

ABOUT WASHINGTON JESUIT ACADEMY

A tuition-free Catholic school, Washington Jesuit Academy provides a nurturing, individualized, and comprehensive education to fourth through eighth grade boys from underserved communities in and around the Nation's Capital. We support and inspire our students and alumni from enrollment through high school, college, and beyond as they find their purpose through education and develop as men for others who make a difference in their communities and society.

WJA's extended school day and year—11 hours a day, 11 months a year—creates the time and space needed for deep learning and strong relationships. Students receive three nutritious meals each day, engage in a rigorous academic program, and participate in enriching clubs, sports, and after-school activities. Formation classes and social-emotional learning experiences help students grow in self-awareness, empathy, and moral character.

But the Academy's commitment doesn't stop at graduation. Through the Office of Student and Alumni Success (OSAS), WJA provides wraparound support that continues throughout high school, college, and into professional life. Beginning in seventh grade, students and families receive individualized guidance on high school placement, test prep, application support, and financial aid counseling. As alumni advance, OSAS offers ongoing mentorship, academic coaching, and career readiness resources such as essay-writing help and financial literacy training.

The success of WJA's model is reflected in its outcomes: 99% of all WJA alumni have graduated from high school and 77% of WJA alumni have enrolled in college, compared to 62% and 36% respectively, of economically disadvantaged males in DC. More than a school, WJA is a community and a lifelong network that helps students discover their purpose and become agents of change.

WHAT SETS WJA APART

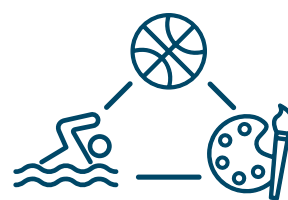

MORE TIME TO LEARN AND GROW

With an extended school day and year—11 hours a day, 11 months a year—students spend 65% more time learning than their public-school peers.

SMALL BY DESIGN

A 14:1 student-to-staff ratio ensures that every student is seen, supported, and challenged in a way that maximizes their potential.

WHOLE-CHILD EDUCATION

WJA integrates academics with a wide array of sports (lacrosse, basketball, soccer, track), enrichment clubs (Robotics, Golf, Art, Cooking), and spiritual formation through retreats. Social and emotional needs are addressed through dedicated counselors and SEL programming.

PATHWAYS TO COLLEGE AND CAREER SUCCESS

OSAS provides alumni with hands-on college application support, test prep, FAFSA navigation, and access to paid internships and job opportunities, empowering them for success well beyond graduation.

A BROTHERHOOD FOR LIFE

WJA is more than a school—it's a lifelong community. Students forge lasting bonds with classmates and teachers who continue to support, mentor, and uplift them long after 8th grade.

Located in Ward 8 and serving the surrounding communities, the school provides an excellent and equitable academic program in a supportive environment which engages families and the community in the social, emotional, and spiritual growth of its students and graduates. WSG helps students to become the confident, capable, and courageous young women they are meant to be.

The mission of WSG is to ignite the joyful pursuit of learning and inspire lives of faith-filled purpose, leadership, and service. WSG develops young female leaders by encouraging students' voices

WSG opens doors through partnerships with programs like the Washington Ballet, Levine School of Music, and the Phillips Collection, giving students a broad foundation of interests and identity. Every experience is a deliberate act of expanding what each girl believes is possible for herself.

At WSG, belonging is not sameness. The school celebrates and nurtures what makes each girl unique, teaching students to approach difference with curiosity and acceptance.
