A Letter from Mark

As I write this, I have just returned after a three-month sabbatical very grateful for the gift of time and space to stop, breathe and reflect. You are likely reading this as the church is about to celebrate harvest, that time of year when we remember the good things God gives us and the beautiful world we live in.

Part of my sabbatical included a guided retreat at St Beuno's. Much of the retreat was spent in silence. Each day I met with a guide who suggested things to read, reflect on and pray about. There was beautiful countryside to explore, and plenty of opportunities to walk. And I found a bench on which, every morning, I would sit with a coffee reading my Bible, writing in my journal and simply being still.

One particular Bible story became important to me during this time: Moses and the burning bush. Moses is tending his father-in-law's sheep when he notices something extraordinary. A bush is on fire, yet it isn't being consumed. Moses says, 'I must turn aside to see why the bush is not burned up.'

That phrase stopped me: 'I must turn aside to see'. The story goes on to say that when God saw Moses had turned aside, God called to him from the bush. Moses had to stop. He had to turn aside. Only then did he hear the call. It made me wonder how often we miss things simply because we are too busy to stop and look.

I'm reminded of walking somewhere with my children and becoming frustrated because they are falling behind. But usually they haven't stopped for no reason. They've noticed something: an insect, a flower, a bird, something interesting on the ground. They have stopped to look. Meanwhile, I'm focused on getting somewhere.

Perhaps life can be like that too. We can become so focused on where we are going, what we need to achieve and what comes next that we fail to notice what is happening around us. For people of faith, those interruptions may sometimes be invitations from God. For others, they might simply be moments that invite us to pause, reflect and pay attention. The unexpected conversation. The person we keep bumping into. The question that won't go away. The beautiful thing we suddenly notice. What if, sometimes, these moments are worth turning aside for? Perhaps we don't always need to hurry on but to stop, look and listen.

So wherever you find yourself today, take a moment to turn aside. Put down the phone. Slow down the pace. Notice what is around you. Pay attention to the person in front of you or to be thankful for the beautiful world around you. And who knows? Perhaps, when we stop long enough to look, we might discover that there is more going on than we first realised. Perhaps we might even discover that God has been there all along.

Let's Crack This Together Survey

For those unable to get to St Peter's to see the remarkable cardboard replica of the church – here is a photograph taken at the Summer Show. It doesn't do the model justice but it was the most wonderful way to represent the plight of St Peter's to the wider community of Portishead and gather the data we need to support grant applications. We even took the model 'on tour' for a day to the library where we had the chance to speak to more people.

In the end, over 1,000 people completed either the online or the paper survey. Our analysis has been based on 558 online responses and 435 paper responses. The conclusions drawn confirm that there is overwhelming support for the church bells (96%) and St Peter's as a part of Portishead and its heritage (97%).

The age distribution of those taking part in the survey leant heavily towards the older members of the community but there was still a majority of respondents under the age of 65 (59%).

75% of participants were aware that St Peter's was open every day and 47% of participants had visited for some peace and quiet. There was a strong association between those attending services and also visiting the church for peace and quiet; 53% of those attending services had visited the church for peace and quiet and 23% of those who had not attended services visited for the peace and quiet.

Another question asked participants if they had attended church for events other than services. 25% of those who had attended things like coffee mornings and concerts had not attended any church services which shows that St Peter's is providing a venue and activities for the enjoyment of the community who would not normally engage with church.

These results will be used to inform our grant applications and will strengthen our assertion that the church needs to be repaired for the benefit of the whole community and not just the regular church goers. There's a lot of hard work ahead of us but it is very encouraging to have actual statistics to support what we have always thought was trueSt Peter's church is loved and valued as part of Portishead's heritage and important to the whole community of Portishead.

If anyone would like to see a full copy of the survey results please email me, claireinportishead@gmail.com

Quiet Mornings at St Nicholas' Church

In the last 2 or 3 years we have developed a practice of holding three Quiet Mornings each year. These have attracted a loyal following with those attending appreciating the opportunity to have a few short reflections followed by time and space to be quiet. Some suggestions are given about how these may be used with advice about different ways of praying. Art materials are provided for those who would like to be creative, there is outside space available in The Glade at Chaplains Wood behind St Nicholas', tea and coffee are on tap and you are welcome to bring a book, music to listen to on headphones or some knitting if you would like to.

It is a great way to use a short period of time to reset, think and pray.

Our next Quiet Morning will be:

Encounters on the Road

Saturday 17th October 10.00am-1.00pm at St Nicholas on Nore Road

So many stories in scripture tell us of people having profound encounters with God and others while they were on the way somewhere. We will look at a few of those stories and see what lessons they hold for us today. Rob will offer some reflections and there will be time to be quiet and pray as well as coffee and tea on tap.

Pastoral Care

Revd Tonya will be loitering most weeks in a café in Portishead. Should you have something pastoral you'd like to discuss or just to say hello, why not drop by.

Setting Sail – 5 weeks on Wednesdays at 2.00pm at The Rectory starting on November 11th

Setting Sail is our very own home-grown course for those exploring faith and how faith might help us better enjoy the adventure of living. It is for people – who have little or no Christian experience or have been going to church for years and have some important questions that they would like to think about more deeply. Setting Sail consists of 5 sessions where we start with our experience of the world we live in and see what the wisdom of Jesus and the Christian tradition may have to say about that. We start from the belief that God is at work in the world and longs for us to bring our questions and uncertainties as well as our joys. Come and join us as we cast off and try out tools to help us navigate this adventure of life.

Setting Sail has usually taken place in an evening, but this autumn we are offering it on a Wednesday afternoon.

A Special Place

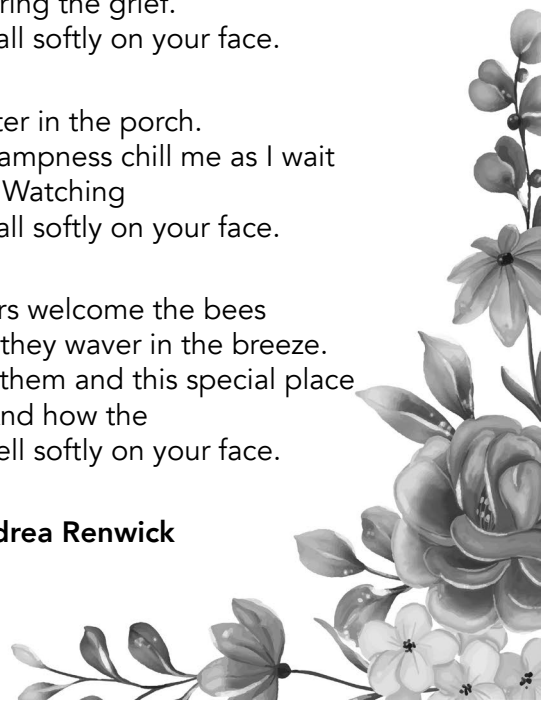

Raindrops fall softly on your face,
Kneeling by the gravestone
In this special place.
Here, where the ivy climbs
Laden with bees
Raindrops fall softly on your face.

Gently you lay cornflowers by the stone.
You thought to come here all alone.
But I took your hand.
Quietly we wandered here,
Sharing the grief.
Raindrops fall softly on your face.

I shelter in the porch.
Coolness and dampness chill me as I wait
Watching
Raindrops fall softly on your face.

Cornflowers welcome the bees
Midnight blue, they waver in the breeze.
I shall remember them and this special place
And how the
Raindrops fell softly on your face.
