ARTS GUIDE

*Fall 2024
through Summer 2025*

251-432-9796

www.mobilearts.org

Hey, y'all!

Welcome to Mobile, one of Alabama's most vibrant cultural hubs! Our city is alive with arts organizations and unique cultural events year-round. With deep roots in Carnival culture, Mobile has blossomed into a bustling port city, brimming with galleries and art centers showcasing murals, sculptures, paintings, and more.

As a lover of the arts myself, I'm continually amazed by our professional opera and ballet companies, symphony orchestra, community theaters, and free music festivals. There's always something captivating on stage here. Just a short drive across Mobile Bay, the Eastern Shore also offers a treasure trove of creative expressions that reflect our region's diverse talent.

Since 1955, the Mobile Arts Council (MAC) has been a cornerstone of our community, fostering events and opportunities for artists of all backgrounds along the Gulf Coast. Our mission is to enrich the quality of life in the Mobile area through increasing accessibility to the arts and promoting a vibrant cultural community.

This annual Arts Guide is our way of sharing Mobile's artistic wealth with both locals and visitors. For more arts events and updates, sign up for our ArtStart newsletter and visit us at mobilearts.org to explore our cultural calendar.

USA DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

southalabama.edu/colleges/music

Propelled by an increasing music student population, a newly created graduate degree program, and a highly active concert series featuring accomplished soloists and diverse ensembles, the Department of Music at the University of South Alabama continually embraces new artistic experiences that balance the rich history of music with emerging music of the 21st century.

USA MARX LIBRARY

southalabama.edu/departments/library/librarygalleries

The University Libraries Art Galleries have regular exhibits. While local and regional artists of all ages, including children in K-12, may exhibit in the galleries, artists from outside the region and traveling exhibits may also be considered.
