

Nevaeh Paul has been dancing at LeRoux School of Dance since she was just two years old and is now in her second year on the team. This season, she's especially excited to add acro to her training. Her favorite styles are lyrical and jazz, where she loves telling a story through movement and showing off her personality on stage. When she's not dancing, you can find her making slime, playing Roblox, or spending time with her family. Nevaeh can't wait to sparkle on stage and share her love of dance with everyone.
