Covenant Church: What's in a Name?

Andrew Myers, Senior Pastor

Know that the LORD, he is God! It is he who made us, and we are his; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

—Psalm 100:3

As we turn the corner into 2026, I want to invite you into a new Compass series that I am calling: "Covenant Church: What's in a Name?" Because we belong to "Covenant Church", we often use the word "Covenant," but how would you describe what "Covenant" means? What is the significance of our church's name, anyway?

We miss out on a great deal when this word "Covenant" remains unfamiliar to us. God's covenants run all the way through Scripture. In a lot of ways, it is God's activity of making covenants that decides how the whole story of Scripture will run. So, in this series, I want to introduce you to what theologians sometimes call 'Covenant Theology.'

Covenant Theology is just a way of trying to describe what Scripture itself teaches. As a result, even in the early Church Fathers and Mothers, you can find beliefs that resemble Covenant Theology, although described in different language. But it is in churches—like our own—that arose out of the Reformation Movement that Covenant Theology has been especially significant. In this series, I will point you to Scripture. I will also point you to the Westminster Confession, our church's confession of faith. Its statements greatly clarify what we believe about God's covenants. You might even want to read those words for yourself. You can find a copy at <https://epc.org/beliefs/> or if you are reading this on a digital device by following this link.

Chapter 7 of our Confession concerns God's Covenants and begins with these wonderful words: "The distance between God and his creation is so great, that, although reasoning creatures owe him obedience as their creator, they nonetheless could never realize any blessedness or reward from him without his willingly condescending to them. And so it pleased God to provide for man by means of covenants."

That is a powerful statement. It gives this simple truth: God is so exalted that we could never know him or have life in him unless he first comes down to us.

Who is like God? How could any creature know and understand the God of heaven and earth? Isaiah 40:15 says that "Even the nations are like a drop from a bucket and are accounted as the dust on the scales." We have more in common with an ant or a worm than we do with the God of the universe. As creatures, we know that God exists. But we could not know God personally except that God has desired to be known by us. He has come down and chosen freely to set his love on his creatures—to make them "his people" and "the sheep of his pasture." God enters into covenant relationship with his people to be known by them.

Likewise, we could never receive life or blessedness or reward from God apart from his covenant love. Creatures are not able to merit any reward from the

Covenant Church: What's in a Name?

Andrew Myers, Senior Pastor

God of the universe. In Luke's gospel, Jesus tells us that at the end of the day, our confession before the Lord is this: "We are simply unworthy servants; we have only done what was our duty" (Luke 17:10).

Everything we have is from God. How could we ever do anything to merit or earn his favor? If we try, at every step we place ourselves in debt to his gifts. James 1:17 reminds us, "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow due to change." And in Romans 11:36, Paul draws us to worship God by declaring, "From him and through him and to him are all things. To him be glory forever.

Amen." We could never merit any life or blessedness or reward from God. But God desires to crown his creatures with life and blessedness and even 'reward.' And so he graciously comes down in covenant love.

What's in a name? The name 'Covenant Church' reminds us that everything we have is from God and by his grace. Our knowledge of God is by his grace. Any life and blessedness and reward that we experience is from God and by his grace. Our life together as God's people—that too is from God according to his grace.

Volunteer Ministry Marilyn Meyer, Volunteer Coordinator

Why do we need volunteers?

The church is like any organization. There are full-time staff who are charged with the day-to-day tasks of keeping the organization afloat. Yes, even though this is God's house and the real purpose is worship and To Know Christ and make Him known, there are many necessary tasks that simply would not be accomplished were it not for volunteers.

Recently, we have had sign-ups for specific tasks. This has been successful, but we can always use more help. I am sure that we've all heard that "many hands make light tasks" and, while this is not scriptural, it is true! In the coming months, I would like to highlight an area or two that could use some volunteer help.

This month, the focus is on Chat, Knit & Sew, and a couple of things the women are working on. Please continue to bring your plastic shopping bags so that they can be crocheted into mats for the unhoused to use for a mattress. It gives them some insulation against the cold. The Chat, Knit & Sew group can use people who prepare items for them at home! This would include balling yarn, cutting fabric to be quilted, etc. They would be happy to show you what they need and then you can help from home when you have time! Let me know if you would be interested in doing this. Don't forget to bring your shopping bags! There is a clear tote in the corner of the Fellowship area where you can leave your bags.

Thank you!

The Chat, Knit, and Sew group meets the first and fourth Monday afternoons of the month from 1:00-4:00 p.m. Women wanting to fellowship together and be involved in a service project are invited to attend.

Can It Really Be 2026?

Kevin Boesiger, Director of Music & Outreach

Happy New Year! Can anyone believe it is 2026? I remember thinking as a young boy, any year beginning with 20 seemed so far away. Certainly by then we would all be flying around with jet packs to get from place to place. And yet, here we are over 25 years into the 21st century, and although there are many things I would not have imagined we would be using today, life does not seem to be the sci-fi my mind made up back in 1975.

What do you think about when a new year comes around? Do you look back at where you have come from, or do you focus on what will be coming in the year ahead? Depending on my mood, I would say I do both. It is good to look back and see how God has been with us through all the good and bad times. How he has faithfully led and loved us. It is also good to think ahead and seek God to see where He might be leading. A new year brings new opportunities and new possibilities, new relationships and new connections.

Proverbs 3:5-6 remind us to "Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight." (NIV) I pray that I will be able to stay on that straight path and not look back and see footsteps curving and dodging those things I could have avoided if I would have just stayed closer to God. I will pray and make plans as I push into 2026 and I hope you will do the same. I also pray we all will have the sense to change our direction or change those plans as God continues to reveal what He has in store for us, individually and as a church family.

Let's make 2026 a year that will honor God with all we do and say and when we look back on the year may we be encouraged knowing God was with us, God was for us and God led us every step of the way.

Proverbs 16:9 tells us, "...in their hearts humans plan their course, but the Lord establishes their steps." May God continue to guide and bless you in 2026.

Happy New Year!

Stephen Ministry

From the Heart of a Stephen Minister Christine Lind, Member

My sister Carol is a professional thrift store shopper. It has nothing to do with money and everything to do with the thrill of the hunt. What she hunts for is usually never for herself and most definitely for the sake of others. And what makes her so special (if you happen to be one of the recipients in her little black book of clients) is that her taste is exquisite. You never have to worry about, “what am I going to do with this?” She’s your self-appointed personal shopper scouting for gems, customized to your needs, wants and wishes.

She’s constantly on the lookout for books to fill my burgeoning library. I have a book lust and have treasures on my bookshelves handpicked by her from Gone With The Wind to the Prayers of Abraham Lincoln. Every book she handpicks for me is beautiful to look at: lightly worn vintage or impeccable hardbacks with classic illustrations. Even though I love and cherish every book she has given me over the years, there is one that stands out as my favorite. It’s a small, manly, used paperback copy of a barely known but profoundly well-written book by Rev. Cacey Lute entitled: “But God...”

She gave me the book over two years ago. I can’t tell you how many times in deep distress I’ve applied those two words to calm myself and put life here on earth in perspective. On the first page of the first paragraph of the introduction the author quotes the late James Montgomery Boice: “May I put it quite simply? If you understand those two words – but God –they will save your soul. If you recall them daily and live by them, they will transform your life completely.”

This little book provides great depth about these two words as they are attached to every doctrine in the Bible, from Christ’s foundation throughout the Old Testament to his resurrection in the New Testament. What I love in these two words is the consistent promise from scripture when we apply them personally to our own lives. My favorite verse among many is: “My flesh and my heart may fail, but God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever” (Psalm 73:26).

My sister probably thought the book looked interesting and because of her own love for God’s word thought it should be on my bookshelf. It’s never on a shelf at my house, but usually sitting out displayed with its contemporary cover on my end table next to my Bible. When I sit down to pray with my flesh and my heart failing, I then remember those powerful two little words and my heart is strengthened. “But God...”; what a promise, what a comfort.

Christmas Traditions

Chuck Tomek, Member

It's a week before Christmas as I write this. I'm sitting at a friend's home in Hawaii, having just finished a 48 hour shift in the emergency room. As usual, it was a great shift as I slept all night, both nights. I now will relax, head to the beach this afternoon and fly home tonight.

I asked the locals how Christmas is different in Hawaii as compared to the mainland. I received many answers.

They don't say Merry Christmas. They say "Mele Kalikimaka". The traditional Christmas meal consists of smoked Kalua pig, poi, and coconut pudding. And Santa Claus doesn't arrive in a sleigh. He loads his presents onto a canoe or kayak and paddles across the Pacific to deliver the gifts. When they go caroling, someone always plays a ukulele to make the occasion more vibrant.

The hospital I work at in a town called Honoka'a sits high atop a hill. I walked around the property late last night and could see the countless Christmas decorations throughout the town. The most amazing? The tall coconut trees with beautiful Christmas lights tightly strung around the trunk and extending dozens of feet to the top.

The different Christmas traditions between Hawaii and Nebraska at this time of year are stark.

The locals however, have something in common with us. They all said they are celebrating the birth of our Lord and Savior. "The reason for the season is Jesus Christ," so many said. They attend Christmas Eve services and light candles to symbolize Jesus as the Light of the World. They pass the flame from person to person, representing the sharing of their faith with others. It was so inspiring talking with the locals.

As I sat outside last night and looked at a cloud-less sky, I saw so many bright, shining, beautiful stars over the ocean. I couldn't help but think of the infamous Star of Bethlehem that guided the wise men towards the birth site of Jesus. And all I could do was bow my head and thank Christ for His birth, His mercy, His resurrection, and our eternal life with Him. And I thanked Him for showing me the different, and similar Christmas traditions.

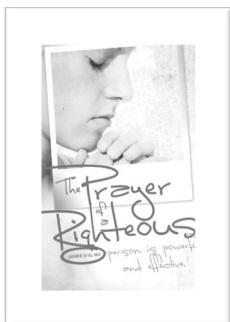

May you all have a most blessed and joyous Christmas season.

Mele Kalikimaka!

2026 - A New Year!

Biblical Thought: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow due to change." James 1:17, ESV

Can you recall what happened last year? Now, we're expected to contemplate a new year filled with both planned and unexpected events. I've never been particularly good at thinking beyond the present moment. As the Bible states in Matthew 6:34 ESV, "Therefore, do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble." The NLT Life Application notes explain, saying, "Time spent planning for tomorrow is time well spent; time spent worrying about tomorrow is time wasted. Sometimes, it can be challenging to distinguish between the two." My life has been a series of events and I've been blessed by the people God has placed in my life. Mistakes in the past are just that—the past. But today and tomorrow are opportunities, and there's a reason to get up every morning. Our church, for both Carol and I, has been wonderful because of the people we meet and the opportunities to serve, when possible. So, laugh, smile and continue your journey with joy in your heart

Happy New Year!

Men's Ministry Model: Building Godly Men: Our struggles shape us into the men we need to be.

CLASSES:

- Men's Wednesday Night Class: Ligonier's "Alive" or "How the Resurrection of Christ Changes Everything" will conclude by January 14.
- Before starting a new class, we will watch a message-driven DVD movie over the following two Wednesdays. The movie, Flywheel, revolves around a used car salesman who grapples with his transformation. Through this journey, he learns to honor God in his business, relationships and life. Notably, it was the first movie produced by the Kendrick brothers, who have since created several successful films, including Facing the Giants, Fireproof, Courageous, War Room, Overcomer, and The Forge.

- Wednesday Format: DVD driven study, discussion, and prayer
- Thursday Morning Bible Study - The book of Luke.
Thursday Format: Open with prayer requests, read and discuss Bible verses, and then close in prayer. It's quick but we cover only what we can. The men are great...they bring experience and stories that add life to the verses.

Check out the weekly e-blast for current studies and then mark your calendars!

- Wednesday Night Classes: 6:30 to 7:45 p.m. in the Dining Room.
- Thursday Morning Bible Study: 7:00 a.m. in the Fireside Room & via Zoom, followed by breakfast at Hy-Vee.
- Planning for the next Men's Breakfast in February/March (evaluating challenging speakers)...stay tuned!

Women's Ministry

Building a caring community of women strengthening our church through support and discipleship, and bearing witness to the promises of God's Kingdom.

Women's Circle

Hope that you all had a Wonderful and Blessed Christmas! Wishing you all a Happy New Year, too!

Women's Circle takes a break during the months of December, January and February. Our first Circle of 2026 is on Thursday, March 19, at 11:45 a.m., in the dining room. We will have lunch together, sing a couple hymns, continue our Bible study of the Gospel of John, and have a wonderful time of fellowship.

This past year, we were delighted by three extra special guest speakers: Zack Kennedy in June; Debarra Prentice in October; and Mary Norton in November. We are grateful for their gift to us.

Our last Circle was on November 20, when we were treated to eight different kinds of homemade soups and eight different homemade pies, all provided and shared with us by our Circle ladies. We are thankful to Mary Norton, who treated us to an organ concert in the sanctuary after our lunch. It was perfect! Thank you, Mary!

Thank you to all the ladies of Circle that volunteered to be hostesses or brought cakes, or helped to set-up the dining room and helped clean-up after Circle.

Jodie Spotanski passed away on December 6. She was our Circle sister and we extend our condolences to Larry and family. She was a lovely lady and we will miss her. Be comforted that she is now with Jesus in Heaven.

If you have any questions about Women's Circle, please contact Renee Barbe. Stay safe and warm and see you all on March 19. (more info in the February Compass.)
