IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHURCH

ONE PARISH FAMILY WITH ST. JAMES CATHEDRAL & CHRIST OUR HOPE

January 11, 2026

My Friends,

As we gather today, we conclude our Christmas Season celebrations with the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord. For the past two weeks we have been unpacking what it means that God has entered into human history and taken on our very humanity. On December 28th, we celebrated how Jesus was part of a real human family in the Feast of the Holy Family. On January 1st, we gave thanks and praise to God for Mary, the "Theotokos," the "God-bearer. Last Sunday, on the Solemnity of the Epiphany, we celebrated the manifestation to the whole world of Jesus, the Christ and Savior, of not just a particular people, but of all people.

Today's celebration marks a transition in the life of Jesus. His baptism in the Jordan by John the Baptist is a further manifestation of who he is as the Beloved Son of God, and sets him on the path of his public ministry. Jesus' baptism reminds us that, in the waters of Baptism, we too are claimed by God as beloved daughters and sons.

One of the fundamental shifts that took place at the Second Vatican Council was the restoration of Baptism as the defining sacrament for a believer. Over the centuries we had drifted toward a view that ordination was really the high point of any Catholic's life. But so few, relatively speaking, are called to ordained ministry. And while ordained ministry is an important vocation, it rests, as do all the sacraments, on the first and foundational sacrament - Baptism.

The centrality of Baptism in our tradition cannot be overstated. It is in and through this sacrament that we are plunged into the saving death and resurrection of Jesus and incorporated into the Body of Christ. The white garment, the alb, that ministers wear is a reminder of the white garment we were clothed in at our baptism. This is THE garment for a Christian.

The pall that we place over a casket at a funeral is a reminder of this baptismal garment, and our belief that in baptism we have died with Christ and have been raised with him to new life.

The centrality of baptism also reminds us that we are all co-responsible for the life of the Church. When ordination was seen as the most important sacrament, it was easy for the non-ordained to see themselves as passive observers, not only in the liturgy, but in the life of the Church. It was "Father's" responsibility to take care of the life of the Church. The responsibility of the rest of the baptized was, to quote a phrase from years gone by, to "pay, pray and obey."

Thankfully that kind of thinking is part of our past and not our present. And that kind of thinking is certainly not part of the history of the parishes in our Parish Family. For Immaculate Conception, Christ Our Hope and St. James Cathedral, there is a long and rich tradition of co-responsibility for the life of the Church. Our parishes depend on the participation and collaboration of all – lay, ordained, volunteers and staff – for both the day-to-day running of our parishes, and for the long-term vision and planning for parish life.

Such co-responsibility and collaboration will continue to be crucial as we move forward in our efforts to come together as one parish. We need the participation, the vision and the commitment of all our parishioners as we explore who the Lord is calling us to become together.

On this Feast of the Baptism of the Lord, may all of us know how beloved we are by our good and gracious God. And may Jesus, the Christ, the Savior of all, continue to accompany us on our way.

Peace,

Communal Celebration of the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick

Saturday, January 31, 2026 | 10:30am
Father Gary F. Lazzeroni, *presider

Immaculate Conception Church
820 18th Avenue, Seattle

In observance of the World Day of Prayer for the Sick, we gather as a family of parishes for the communal celebration of the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick. We will conclude our Mass with a procession to Immaculate Conception's Lourdes Grotto, which has been a place of prayer and hope for generations.

What is the sacrament of Anointing of the Sick?

The sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick is one of the seven sacraments of the Catholic Church. Like the sacrament of reconciliation (confession), it is a sacrament of healing. Our understanding of this sacrament has changed with time. In the early Church it was seen as a sacrament of healing, but later it came to be known as "Extreme Unction" – literally, "last anointing" – and was not administered until death was imminent. With the reforms of the Second Vatican Council, the Church has returned to the more ancient practice with regard to this sacrament.

Who can receive this sacrament?

Catholics, both children and adults, who are seriously ill, facing surgery, or experiencing the weakness that comes with old age should seek this sacrament. Those with serious, chronic mental or physical illness may also receive the anointing of the sick.

What happens during the Rite of Anointing?

The Rite of Anointing will be celebrated in the context of a special Mass on Saturday, January 31 at 10:30am. After the homily, the Liturgy of Anointing begins. The priest leads a litany in which all pray for the healing and forgiveness of the sick person, as well as for doctors, nurses, and caregivers. Then, in silence, the priest lays his hands on the head of the sick person, an ancient gesture of prayer that is used in connection with many of the sacraments, especially the Sacrament of Reconciliation and Holy Orders.

After the laying on of hands, each sick person is anointed with the Oil of the Sick (pure olive oil, blessed each year by the Archbishop at the Chrism Mass). The sick person is anointed on the forehead and then on the hands, and simple words accompany the anointing: "Through this holy anointing may the Lord in his love and mercy help you with the grace of the Holy Spirit. May the Lord who frees you from sin save you and raise you up." A concluding prayer follows, and then the Liturgy of the Eucharist continues as usual.
