Second Sunday of Easter — Divine Mercy Sunday

April 12, 2026

Happy Easter! This season always feels special to me, not just because of its joyful traditions, but because it marks the very heart of our faith—the resurrection of Jesus and the blossoming of the Church. When I read the Scriptures, I try to imagine myself among Jesus’ disciples, grappling with His extraordinary promises and puzzling statements. For example, after the Last Supper, Jesus told His followers that those who believe in Him would do even greater works than He did. Imagine hearing that after witnessing miracles like healing the blind and raising the dead! It’s hard to wrap your mind around such a claim. Yet, the Acts of the Apostles shows that after Jesus’ resurrection, the disciples began performing wonders and spreading His message, even in the face of danger. The Church grew rapidly because people came from everywhere hoping for healing and finding faith. Jesus’ promise was already coming to life. The reason these works are “greater” is explained in today’s Gospel: Jesus sent the Holy Spirit, empowering His disciples to forgive sins and spread salvation worldwide. While Jesus was limited to one place during His earthly life, His Spirit now moves through countless people, enabling miracles of mercy and grace across the globe.

This mission continues today. When we go to confession, it’s not the priest’s holiness that forgives us, but Jesus working through him, providing His Divine Mercy. The Church, through the Holy Spirit, cares for the vulnerable, establishes schools, hospitals, and heals the world in ways that may seem ordinary but are truly miraculous. The knowledge, wisdom, and compassion we see in daily life are gifts from God, enabling us to alleviate suffering and make extraordinary advancements. These everyday miracles remind me to look for God’s hand in ordinary moments. The Body of Christ, His Holy Church (you and I), carry out and experience miracles every day by sharing God’s love and mercy to others.

Like Thomas, it’s easy to doubt unless we see tangible proof, but faith is about believing first. Jesus assures us, “Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed.” So today, I strive to see with the eyes of faith, to trust, to love, and to find joy in believing. As I receive the Eucharist, I try to see with the eyes of faith and echo Thomas’s words: “My Lord and my God!”

Yours in Christ,

Deacon John Tempesco

Eternal God, in whom mercy is endless and the treasury of compassion inexhaustible, look kindly upon us and increase your mercy in us, that in difficult moments we might not despair nor become despondent, but with great confidence submit ourselves to your holy will, which is Love and Mercy itself. Amen.

ROMAN CATHOLIC
OF CHARLESTON
OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

This month, we live the Paschal Triduum, the passion, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. As we seek to deepen our relationship with Jesus, I encourage you to partake in this month's activity for Via Fidelis: "Ask someone of a different age or background about their experiences growing up Catholic." But it's more than just that. It is asking another person how they have encountered Jesus and how it affected their lives.

We each share a unique view of Christ through our experiences with him — but he is the same Lord. On Palm Sunday, a throng of impassioned followers of Jesus welcomed him joyfully into Jerusalem. They saw a prophet, a wellspring of the knowledge of God and the law, riding on a donkey. When he was presented before that same crowd, jeering and rejecting him, Pontius Pilate looked on the Lord with fear, curiosity and even guilt. So follow Jesus with conviction, not emotion.

The women of Jerusalem, and Veronica who wiped his bloody face, saw Jesus through the eyes of compassion. Like her, we are called to be compassionate to the needs of others. Even Simon of Cyrene looked quickly at the Son of God before his cross was thrust onto his shoulders to bear.

Jesus manifests himself in our lives at different moments. Sometimes we forget that we are not the center of the universe. We focus inwardly so often, yet the most important moments of our lives can be found outwardly in the smallest, quietest, most mundane daily things, like the smile of a stranger or the kindness of a good deed. And Jesus most clearly shows himself to us in Mass, where that same sacrifice of his crucifixion in the elevated host makes us proclaim, "my Lord and my God" (Jn 20:28).

I invite you to exit your comfort zone and discuss this aspect of the faith with a sibling, a friend, a stranger, a coworker or a grandparent. Thank you for sparking these important conversations. Like mustard seeds, our own understanding can be grown through dialogue with others about the beauty of our faith.

In Christ's love,

Most Rev. Jacques Fabre-Jeune, CS
Bishop of Charleston

TREASURY OF THE CHURCH: THE DEPOSIT OF FAITH

Read the Catechism of the Catholic Church
50-53, 68-69, 76, 80-83, 97, 105-108, 135-136

- Divine Revelation is transmitted to us through Apostolic Tradition:
  - Apostolic Tradition is the communication of Christ's message, beginning with the Apostles, who entrusted all they received from Christ and the Holy to the Church
- Apostolic Tradition is transmitted through sacred Scripture and sacred Tradition
- Together, Scripture and Tradition form the one "Deposit of Faith"
- God is the author of sacred Scripture, which is written by human authors under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit
- Both the Old and New Testaments form the canon of sacred Scripture and together communicate God's plan of salvation for the World
- The Old Testament prepares for the New Testament while the New Testament fulfills the Old Testament
- In addition to the written words of Scripture, the Apostolic Tradition is also communicated through the living transmission of faith, which we refer to as "Tradition" or "Sacred Tradition"
- Both Scripture and Tradition communicate the Word of God and are rooted in the Gospel Proclamation (kerygma)

DEFINE: PASCHAL TRIDUUM

We use the term Triduum to refer to the three-day period of Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday which culminates with the celebration of the East Vigil. In a special way, the whole Church enters into Christ's Paschal mystery of his passion and resurrection. We use the term paschal, meaning Passover, because Christ's saving death and resurrection fulfill all of God's saving work in the Old Testament, of which the Passover of Exodus has a special place even as it is practiced in Judaism today. The Paschal Triduum is considered the high point of the Liturgical Year.

Feasts & Solemnities

APRIL 2: HOLY THURSDAY

On Holy Thursday, we celebrate the Last Supper during which the Eucharist was instituted as Jesus' Paschal sacrifice. It is sometimes referred to as Maundy Thursday. Maundy comes from the Latin mandatum (command), referring to the "new commandment" Jesus gives at the Last Supper shortly after washing his disciples' feet. This command is "to love one another as he has loved us" (Jn 13:34-35). After this celebration, the Eucharistic Prayer is not prayed again until the Easter Vigil.

APRIL 3: GOOD FRIDAY

We refer to Good Friday as "good" because of the goodness of Jesus' complete gift of self on the cross. At the celebration of the Lord's passion, the Eucharist is distributed, but Mass is not offered.

APRIL 4: HOLY SATURDAY

A day of silence, Holy Saturday is meant to be an opportunity to enter into the mystery of Christ's with hopeful expectation. The feeling of absence, that comes from the lack of daily Mass being offered, points us to the reality of Christ's death — in turn, it means that his resurrection is also real.

APRIL 4: THE EASTER VIGIL

Our celebration of Easter begins at sundown on Holy Saturday with the Easter Vigil. In this celebration, we experience the light of Christ and recall God's saving work throughout all of "salvation history" through the readings. As we recall God's saving work and will that find the fullest expression in Christ himself and the Paschal mystery, this celebration is a time when new Christians join Christ in his death and resurrection through baptism.

APRIL 25: ST. MARK THE EVANGELIST

Early Christian writers tell us that St. Mark, the evangelist behind the Gospel of Mark, was a companion of St. Peter, and his account of Jesus' ministry is possibly that of St. Peter. St. Mark's remains are currently thought to be in the city of Venice. The winged lion often used to represent Mark's Gospel in iconography is the symbol of the city of Venice.

Many thanks to Karen Hanson for her leadership of the Evangelization Team.

Why So Many Images? Which One is Best?

Is there an "official" Image of The Divine Mercy? Turns out, the church has approved three images for churches to display. For personal devotion, the right image is the one that speaks to your heart of His infinite mercy for you.

St. Faustina did her best to relay what she saw. A difficult task indeed for any artist, to recreate the depth of mercy in Jesus' holy face.

Check out this article on TheDivineMercy.org and read more about the first painting and St. Faustina's description for the artist.
