The McDonough Methodist Academy's annual Christmas programs were a heartwarming success this year, with approximately 300 attendees gathering each evening to celebrate the holiday season. The events, held on Dec. 10 and 17, brought together students, families, and community members for an evening of festive performances, seasonal cheer, and community connection.

Highlights of these programs included renditions of classic carols by each grade level along with poems and scripture recitations. Attendees enjoyed the festive and lively program.

Academy leaders expressed gratitude for the strong turnout and support from the community.

“We are thrilled to see so many families come together to celebrate the Christmas season and support our students. It truly captures the spirit of Christmas.” said McDonough First United Methodist Church’s pastor, the Rev. Dr. Nathaniel Long.

These events underscore McDonough Methodist Academy's commitment to fostering a sense of community and holiday joy, according to the church. Plans are already underway for the next program, promising even more memorable moments for all.
