CSR Corporate and Social Responsibility

Becoming a CSR associate costs nothing for Perks Direct customers and shows the positive effect it can have on your business with this now becoming more of a requirement when tendering.

What is CSR, and why should I register?

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) is when a company operates ethically and sustainably and deals with its environmental and social impacts. This means careful consideration of human rights, the community, the environment, and the society in which it operates. Although it's not a legal requirement, it's seen as good practice to take into account social and environmental issues.

Top cover with special prices: Chose from several providers with one search

When it comes to private medical how do you know the difference between all the companies, offers and more importantly exclusions?

A simple form will allow us to provide you with quotations from several schemes at our special rates.

There is no obligation and we will review this on a ongoing basis to make sure you always have a choice and value.

Overview: Cycle to work

The scheme enables employees to get a new bicycle and/or safety equipment and pay for it through salary sacrifice, typically saving them between 32% and 45% off the cost (depending on their personal rate of tax).

Employees can choose to use a range of local retailers or nationwide high-street chains.

At least 50% of the cycles use should be for commuting either part way or all of the way to work. No record is required to be kept of the way employees use their bicycles and it is not monitored centrally.

Benefits overview: Wearables

This scheme allows employees to get a new Smart Watch (Wearable) from leading manufacturers such as Apple, Samsung, and FitBit and pay for it through their salary. They can choose to opt for devices that are GPS enabled or have cellular functionality so can operate independent of a mobile phone.

The way it works is that your business buys the Wearable and the employee repays the cost over an agreed period of time through their salary (usually 12 months). This is currently our most popular employee benefit.

Benefits overview: Gym membership

Employees have access to 100's of leisure and gym providers nationwide. This could be local standalone providers, council run gyms or a national chain.

Even if your employee is an existing member of a gym we can usually arrange for a seamless switch from their current membership on to a corporate rate.

Mobile insurance: 5 Star cover 1 Star price

Insurance for your handset need not be expensive, or a hassle. Each of our affordable cover options gives you the peace of mind that your phone is protected. From the very latest Apple and Samsung phones, through to other makes and models, we'll cover any handset with the cover level you choose for an unbeleivable price.
