The island of Iona is only 3 miles from north to south and 1½ miles from east to west and is steeped in history, and the cradle of Scottish Christianity. This is a very special island and often referred to as a 'thin place' where heaven and earth seem to touch. Iona's religious significance, married with its immense natural beauty, makes it a place of revelation where a sunset-inspired epiphany is just around the corner. It's a feeling that's imbued in every brick of its old buildings; an atmosphere rooted in its soil. The thin veil between the physical and the spiritual becomes thinner still on this historical Isle. The tradition of worship at the Abbey continues through daily services and teaching.

Tour Iona Abbey and view St. Martin's Cross. It is thought to be the final resting place of 48 medieval kings of Norway, Ireland, and Scotland, including the eleventh-century King Macbeth of Shakespearean fame. Afterwards, our group will return to Oban for the night. Dinner on own.

This afternoon we visit the Burns Cottage, the birthplace of Robert Burns, where the poet’s life and early surroundings invite reflection on humility, human longing, and the creative spirit. Next, we visit the Burns Museum, exploring prized artifacts such as an original manuscript of Auld Lang Syne, letters, and personal notes that reveal his inner struggles, moral questioning, and spiritual awareness. Continuing on to visit the Brig o’ Doon, immortalized in Burns’ poetry. Pause to reflect on the enduring human search for love, justice, and virtue, and how the landscape itself inspires contemplation of God’s beauty and truth. Our group explores Burns’ spiritual wrestling, his moral vision, and humanist perspective. Consider how Burns bridges folk spirituality and modern moral questioning, offering insights into faith, conscience, and the poetic imagination. This evening the group meets for our farewell dinner before continuing on to Edinburgh for the night. Overnight Edinburgh Hotel
