

To believers everywhere,

I highly recommend Wes Daughenbaugh teaching on Spiritual Leadership. I have personally studied the subject of leadership for over 40 years, but never from the perspective of being a leader led by the Holy Spirit.

As a school teacher and coach for 15 years and a pastor for the last 16 years, all the leadership training I have received has been taught entirely from the secular perspective. Some have added scriptures to support their leadership theories, Wes's approach starts and ends with scripture, focusing on the relational dynamic with the Holy Spirit as our leader. Wes stresses that all believers are called to be leaders, servants who lead no matter their station in life.

When Wes came out to our church presenting from his latest book "GREAT LESSONS IN SPIRITUAL LEADERSHIP" he was very clear, concise, and used wonderful art illustrations and personal stories that easily held his listeners attention. Our alter times for prayer at the conclusions of services were powerful moments of Holy Spirit impartation. I highly recommend having Wes come present all believers with the keys of being a Holy Spirit led servant leader.
