

Anima Christi

Soul of Christ, sanctify me.
 Body of Christ, save me.
 Blood of Christ, inebriate me.
 Water from the side of Christ,
 wash me.
 Passion of Christ, strengthen me.
 O good Jesus, hear me.
 Within Your wounds hide me.
 Separated from You let me
 never be.
 From the evil one protect me.
 At the hour of my death, call me;
 and close to You bid me.
 That with Your saints and angels,
 I may be praising You forever
 and ever. Amen.
 - St. Ignatius of Loyola

The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ (Corpus Christi) (A)

Deuteronomy 8: 2-3, 14b-16a / 1 Corinthians 10:16-17 / John 6:51-58

[Jesus said,] "I am the living bread that came down from heaven; whoever eats this bread will live forever; and the bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world."

JOHN 6:51

All You Can Eat

MIGUEL DULICK

The "Bread of Life Discourse" in the sixth chapter of the Gospel of John is an astonishing teaching. "The bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world" (John 6:51b). Creation was wonderful, the Incarnation was wonderful, but now Jesus takes the final step in God's coming ever closer to us human beings, as close as food, as intimate as eating Christ's body and drinking his blood. For us Catholics, it's called transubstantiation: the Host—something we hold in our hand—is so divine that we worship it!

The crowds listening to Jesus could not have imagined how you would "eat" (literally, "gnaw") Jesus' flesh or drink his blood, and certainly not a whole year before the Last Supper (not to mention, hundreds of years before St. Thomas Aquinas). When surveys showed that many of today's Catholics are just as confused and doubtful as the crowd at Capernaum, having lost faith or even interest in the Eucharist, the American bishops launched a search-and-rescue mission to recover "The Mystery of the Eucharist in the Life of the Church," published in 2021.

Paul bases the sacrament in our own experience. "The cup...that we bless" and "the bread that we break" create the ultimate reality: "we, though many, are one body"—of Christ! (See 1 Corinthians 10:16-17.) The priest says, "The Body of Christ," and we respond, "Amen!"

What does my "Amen" mean when I receive the Eucharist?

Corpus Christi feast invites us into the miracle of the Body and Blood of Christ. This ancient feast comes to us from the 13th century that was plagued by disbelief about the Real Presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. It was the experience of a priest, Peter of Prague that would make this a universal feast for the Church. In 1263, Fr. Peter was on pilgrimage to Rome. He was a good priest who struggled with doubts about the Holy Eucharist. He agonized over whether, at the words of consecration, the bread and wine became really the true Body and Blood of Jesus. During this time, he was celebrating Mass at the tomb of St. Christina and as soon as he said the words of consecration, the host in his hands began to bleed down his arms and onto the altar cloth below. Pope declared it a miracle and you can still see that blood-stained corporal in Orvieto's Cathedral, almost 800 years later.

Stewardship Lifestyle

cause there is one bread, we, who are many, are one body, for we all partake of the one bread." 1 CORINTHIANS 10:17

As disciples of Jesus, we are called to lead holy lives and invite others to join us. We are called to be fed and to feed others. Living a stewardship lifestyle, being grateful and generous with our gifts, serves a twofold purpose. One, it helps build God's kingdom here on earth. Two, it helps us strengthen each other's relationship with God the Father, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit. It becomes our roadmap to Heaven. Let's help each other get there!
