Pastor's Notes:

Today is the day we “fall back” to Standard Time, meaning you may have come an hour early this morning. That is okay, since you can spend some time with the Lord.

At this writing, it is unknown, but the hope is that we are celebrating Mass this weekend in our church and not in the hall. In any event, we are celebrating Mass! If we are in the church, it means that the work around the transformer has been completed, and that power has been restored to the church, garage, and rectory. Thanks to you for your patience with the All Saints’ holy day and the weekday Masses that were celebrated in the hall. Thanks to Rick and Crinda McConville for providing shelter to me during this time. And thanks to all who took part in the funeral for Dan Linegar on Monday before power was shut off. You are making good things happen for the whole parish!

We are happy to report that our own Fr. Dan Rayer will be leading our Forty Hours the first weekend of Advent, December 2-4. He will be speaking at the opening on Friday evening with Evening Prayer, and at the two weekend Masses (Saturday night and Sunday morning). Just as we were not able to have Eucharistic adoration because of the church situation this last week, we will not be having it on Dec. 2 in the morning because of the Forty Hours starting in the evening, but we are committed to the Lord in the most Blessed Sacrament, Who gives Himself to us because He is fully committed (look at a crucifix!) to us. God bless you! Jane Rayer is our parish representative for the national Eucharistic Revival, which will include Eucharistic processions from all four directions converging in Indianapolis next summer. One procession will be passing through North Platte sometime next year.

I am relieved that Stephanie Neseth has agreed to manage our parish website. We have had it for a few years at no cost, but Our Sunday Visitor is now charging an annual fee to move it to a required new platform and maintain it after that. In case you did not know, I am no “techy” in any sense of the word. God bless you all!
